GOVERNOR PINCHOT GIVES GREETING

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 11.—"K. P." and "M. P." came understandingly together here today with "shavetail" and general as the eighth annual convention of the American Legion got under way. Easily 100,000 of the boys who in '17-18, in groups of 40 crowded the famous eight chevaux out of France's best box cars, were on hand to join in the festivities and receive the greetings of Pennsylvania and the Sesqui-Centennial.

Promptly at 10 o'clock National Commander John R. McQuigg called the convention to order in the huge Sesqui auditorium, National Chaplian W. E. Patrick delivered the invocation and the 1926 assembly of America's World War veterans had begun. For the most part, the first day's program was to be taken up with speeches of welcome and greeting, although some time during the day the Paris fight—final determination of whether next years convention is to go to France—will have its inception.

Governor Speaks

Gov. Gifford Pinchot greeted the vets in behalf of the state.

"We welcome you to the shrine of American liberty, you fighters who labored so hard and sacrificed so unstintingly to preserve it", he said. "The doors of Independence Hall are ever open to you who, by valiant service and sheer fighting grit, have won the right to enter them first".

Speaking for the city, Mayor Freeland Kendrick declared: "What the patriots did to build this nation one hundred and fifty years ago, and what their successors in arms accomplished during all the wars in which this country has been

MME. ROSA PONSELLE

By Central Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Rose Ponsella, delight of opera lovers, has fame, fortune and magnificent health. All she needs now—or so she confesses—is love.

She wants a husband. And, moreover, she has very definite notions of what sort of man her husband must be. She calls him, "Mr. Right Man," and speaks freely of his qualifications.

"Mr. Right Man will be more than welcome when he appears," Miss Ponselle said, "but that's very easy to say."

"What must he be like?" the singer was asked.

"He must be an American and a business man," she said. "There is something about the American business man that is very fetching. And he must be romantic and an ardent lover—of music and beauty."

"Have you ever met a romantic American business man?"

Miss Ponselle smiled wistfully.

"Perhaps if I had I'd have married him," she said. "Anyway, I've read about him in books."

"How would he look?"

"He must be a blond. I am dark and I love striking contrast. He must be attractive to me in ap-

Two Murders In Youngstown

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, Oct. 11. — Confronted with two baffling cases of murder, police today began search for possible clues.

James Laubui, 40, a truck driver, was found sitting upright in his truck, three bullet wounds in his back. A loaded revolver was found in his pocket. He had been dead several hours.

The body of Charles Walker was found lying on a sidewalk, with a number of deep stab wounds indicating a severe struggle.

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Brucks, who were inseparable companions throughout the 65 years of their wedded life, could not be parted by death. The aged couple will be buried side by side at a double funeral today, having expired within a few hours of each other. An hour after the 84-year-old husband had been told that his wife had died, he lapsed into unconsciousness. He died a few hours later.

Too Many Clothes And Lack Of Knowledge Made Grandma Naughtier Than Flapper

(International News Service)

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 11—Too many clothes and too little knowledge made grandmother a bad girl or at least much naughtier than her modern granddaughter according to Col. Edward White of this city, Salvation Army southeastern division commander.

"They're sophisticated, certainly they are, these young ladies. And for that very reason they don't fall into the traps that their grandmothers, in innocence and swaddling clothes did," says Col. White.

"We used to cover things up and think that no one knew anything about them, but now we uncover them and nobody pays any attention to them."

"In missionary work we discovered that as soon as the savage girl is converted and put into a skirt every young man in the tribe starts after her. As long as she wore no skirts at all they paid no attention to her."

Col. White states that the south-western division of the organization is devoting most of its attention to the younger generation on the theory that prevention is better than cure.

Second Matrimonial Venture Of Constance Talmadge Is Wrecked

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 11—Constance Talmadge screen star was enroute to California today leaving behind her the splintered wreck of her second matrimonial venture. Just before her departure from New York Miss Talmadge admitted that she and Capt. Alastair MacIntosh of Glasgow, whom she married last February, had decided on a separation. Captain MacIntosh it is said, soon would return to London.

Miss Talmadge described the break as "amicable." She and her husband were "unsuited" to one another she said and she preferred her career as a moving picture actress to that of matrimony. The separation, she intimated would be followed eventually by action for divorce in the California courts.

She divorced her first husband, John C. Pialoglou an importer for similar reasons.

"We are the best of friends" said Miss Talmadge speaking of Captain MacIntosh. "I would not say anything to hurt him, for he is one of the finest gentlemen I ever met. But it would be selfish for me to spoil his life."

"I Got Mad And Hit Her With Chair", Aged Man Calmly Asserts

(International News Service)

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 11. — Benjamin Wallace, 75-year-old great-grandfather, alleged to have killed his aged wife "because he couldn't stand her nagging," calmly smoked his pipe in jail here today while the authorities investigated the strange case.

Stalking into the Sunday school where his son Clarence is superintendent, the old man said:

"You'd better come home quick, son; mother's pretty sick."

Upon arriving home the son found his father reading the newspaper, while in the next room his mother, Mrs. Mary E. Wallace, 65, was lying on the floor. She had been beaten with a chair.

"I got mad," the old man explained placidly. "She'd nagged me ever since we were married 42 years ago and today I got mad and hit her with the chair.

"She nagged me if I didn't hang up my clothes, if I took too much sugar in my coffee and if I dropped ashes on the floor."

When the police arrived the aged man was calmly reading the paper.

Mrs. Wallace died later in a hospital. She suffered a skull fracture and was injured internally.

Ancient "Blue Law" Spectre Grips All Pittsburgh Sports

Police Called On Yesterday To Stop Several Grid Games

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 11. — The spectre of an ancient Pennsylvania "blue" law today had stalked its hour upon Pittsburgh's stage, frightened several Sunday football games out of their collective wits, winked at innumerable tennis and golf matches, and passed again into obscurity.

The blue law, recent "discovery" of which brought about a whirlwind of comment, debate, threats and counterthreats anent possible clamping down of the official lid on Sunday sports here, failed to stem the flow of golf bugs and tennis addicts to city courts and greens, park attendants said.

Three football games were stopped by police under orders of James M. Clark, director of public safety, one after fourteen policemen answered an emergency call to clear the field of players.

Three men, arrested at the football games, paid small forfeits to answer charges of disorderly conduct.

Staid Old Missouri Town Goes Crazy With Cardinals As World's Champions

Thirty-Eight Years Of Stored Up Energy Suddenly Let Loose In River Town

By W. F. SULLIVAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 11.—This usually staid city on the western shores of the Mississippi went wild yesterday and the reaction of winning the world's series championship was still present today.

The flash coming over the wires on the third out of Ruth in the ninth inning of the deciding game in the series giving the Cardinals the world's championship, sent the St. Louis fans into a frenzy of excitement and celebration. The Red Birds had finally downed the Yanks.

Nervous Energy Released

A nervous energy stored up for thirty eight years was released. Vast throngs gathered in the downtown district awaited breathlessly in the ninth inning while the ancient and mighty Alexander, with two series victories already to his credit, worked through the session.

Two down and the mighty Ruth at bat. Two strikes and three balls. Then he went to first on a pass. Meusel, somewhat less dangerous in the series but a mighty batter, stepped to the plate. One strike when the signal for the hit and run was given. Meusel swung and missed, Ruth started for second but was caught and the series was over. The Cards won 3 to 2.

Pandemonium! The breathless crowd gathered themselves together and in unison released a mighty whoop of 38 years standing. This was only the beginning. Revolvers belched terrific volleys, cannons were fired, automobile honrs honked, street car bells clanged, machines backfired and cheering and shouting such as this city has never heard before, broke loose.

Nothing Matters

Constant and unceasingly, the cheering and noise persisted. A steady parade of automobiles kept the din going.

The Cardinals had won the world's championship. What else mattered. Hour after hour, the din of celebrants using every known noise-making device, rent the air with their unceasing demonstration.

Machines dragging tin pans, cow bells and other loud contraptions paraded through the streets. Shouting mingled with the din. The

Resume Work On Shenango School

Agreement Reached Whereby Work Of Construction Has Been Resumed

Through an agreement reached Saturday afternoon between J. Clyde Gilfillan, contractor for the new Shenango township school, and T. J. McMichael, business agent of the Building Trades Council and J. B. Lightner, president of the Bricklayers Union, work was resumed this morning on that school.

The agreement reached with Mr. Gilfillan was to the effect that he would keep the carpenters off all iron work, such as joists, steel frames, etc., pending a decision of National Board of Jurisdictional Awards of the Building Trades Council of the American Federation of Labor. No crafts were called off at any time, according to Mr. McMichael except the iron workers and engineers.

Big Increase In Coining Pennies And Nickels Indicates High Production And Prosperity

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The "penny" that unpopular but necessary piece of United States coinage has returned to its own. Likewise the "nickel." More than 2,000,000 pounds of copper was used by the U. S. treasury in the past year to mint $5,115,675 worth of five and ten cent pieces according to the Copper and Brass Research association. The tremendous circulation the association declares indicates an era of high production and prosperity.

This output compares with an average production of $6,-4000,000 worth of minor coins containing 2,500,000 pounds of copper during the years of the war and up to 1920. A pronounced increase in the output of copper coins including the nickel, which is 75 per cent copper, is shown by figures for the past three years.

Pretty Chicago Young Woman Is Found Murdered

Body, With Bullet Through Heart And Half Nude, Found By Woman Pedestrian

OFFICERS START SWEEPING SEARCH

Believe Young Woman Slain In Course Of "Party" And Deserted

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—The body of a pretty young woman, clad only in underclothes and shot once through the heart, was found today in an alley in the rear of the German Evangelical Deaconess hospital here.

Over the nearly nude body had been draped a long black coat.

A woman passerby found the body shortly after nine o'clock and hospital physicians, summoned, declared the murder had taken place only a short time before.

Body Placed There

The body evidently had been placed with great care almost at the door of the receiving entrance of the hospital.

Police expressed the belief that the young woman had been shot in some of the nearby apartment houses, probably during the course of a "party" and that she had died while being brought to the hospital. Her companion or companions, according to the police theory, became frightened when they found the shooting had resulted fatally, and feared to bring the body into the hospital lest they become implicated.

Examination of the coat and underclothing of the girl gave no clue to her identity. The underclothes were of good quality and the coat over the body was fur-trimmed.

Police immediately began a house-to-house canvass of the neighborhood in an effort to trace the crime.

Murder Mystery Baffles Police At Kane, Penna.

(International News Service)

KANE, Pa., Oct. 11.—Authorities are today still seeking for a clue to the murder of Dominick Scopoletti, whose dismembered body was found jammed in a whiskey barrel.

The gruesome murder occurred Saturday night near Johnsonburg. Dr. C. M. Luby of St. Marys, coroner of Elk county who examined the body declared the dismembering was done with an axe or hatchet.

Scores of alleged bootleggers in this vicinity have been questioned by police but so far no arrests have been made. Mrs. Scopoletti has given authorities no aid.

The series is over, the shouting is done and the Cards are the baseball fans pets, and a lot of the boys are in clover today, with the money they won on their bets. But some of the lads are downcast and depressed, their bankrolls are thinner by far, and they haven't enough to buy shoestrings or socks or gasoline for their car. They felt that the Yankees would romp home with ease, and they laid twenty bucks on their nose, and now they looking for nickels and dimes, and a place where the free lunches grow. The moral is plain, if you don't want to lose, don't bet any money at all, of course you won't win, but you won't lose your dough, fifty-five and it's typically fall.

FIVE DIVORCES ARE GRANTED; AND FOUR REFUSED BY COURT

Judge Hildebrand Hands Down Decrees In Nine Divorce Cases This Morning

Court Holds Testimony in Four Cases Insufficient To Support Charges

Five divorces were granted and four were refused in decrees handed down by Judge Hildebrand this morning. The divorces granted were as follows:

Benjamin Owens from Alice J. Owens, cruel and barbarous treatment.

Mary E. Anderson from Patrick H. Anderson, cruel and barbarous treatment.

Gertrude L. Boring from Raymond L. Boring, cruel and barbarous treatment.

Delwin R. Post from Hazel Post, desertion.

David F. Cox from Clara J. Cox, cruel and barbarous treatment.

Those refused were as follows: Mary Worthy against Charles Worthey, cruel and barbarous treatment.

Sarah A. Kline against Oliver Kline, cruel and barbarous treatment.

Olive M. White against Carl E. White, desertion.

James Warwick against Elizabeth Warwick, cruel and barbarous treatment.

In refusing decrees in the four cases Judge Hildebrand reviewed the evidence briefly as presented before the master and gave it as his opinion that the testimony was insufficient to support the charges.

In the Worthey case it was found that the principal cruelty consisted in the wife refusing to go to Cleveland after her husband had secured a job there.

In the Kline case the court found that the couple were married in 1903 and had lived together until March, 1924. They had six children. It was alleged that when the second child was born Kline called his wife disrespectful names in the presence of the physician. The report also showed that 18 years ago a butcher knife had been thrown, but there was nothing recently which the court believed warranted the granting of a divorce.

In the White case the court held that the testimony indicated an agreement to separate. It was found that while White had not provided a home, he had not refused to do so.

In the Warwick case it was held that the evidence was not sufficient to support the charge of cruel and barbarous treatment.

engaged, was followed by the noble sacrifices and deeds of heroism of you and your comrades in the World War".

Biggest Convention

The Legion is giving Philadelphia the biggest and most colorful convention of the Sesqui. In fact, there are a number of conventions within the big one, for meeting simultaneously are the La Societe Des Quarante Hommes Et Hit Chevaux —or "40 and 8"—The Woman's Auxiliary of the Legion and the National Congress on Americanization.

Ex-doughboys are jammed into every conceivable nook and corner of the city and the streets are a riot of color, pushing, jovial crowds, impromptu demonstrations and special functions. Philadelphia has taken on the air of a mardi gras.

"Speed, speed speed"—that is the motto of the Legionnaires. Thundering drum corps, post bands and bugle units hold forth on every corner. Philadelphia is a maelstrom of gaudy and unique uniforms.

Many Brilliant Uniforms

Florida veterans clad in brilliant gold uniforms with belts and leggings of blue, showed that the recent hurricane could not dampen their spirits. Mexican sombreros hung with bells distinguished the boys from California. From the national capital came the blood-red tunics and white breeches of the Costello post. Six hundred Iowans proclaimed the virtues of their state with the aid of huge stalks of corn. "The boys of '76" from Racine, Wis., crack bugle and drum corps of last year, are out to repeat.

From every side comes the slang and the colloquialisms of the army and the "hinkey-dinkey, parleyvous" of 1917-18. Overseas caps outnumber those of civilian style. The Legion is giving Philadelphia the time of its life.

Perry Gaston Post Sends Delegates To Philadelphia

Representing the Perry S. Gaston Post, No. 343, American Legion, L. B. McAneny, R. Harold Blewitt, Earl R. Toler and W. R. Allen will leave tonight for Philadelphia, Pa., where the national convention of the Legion is being held.

Tuesday morning the parade of all the Legionnaires will be held and the colors of the local post will be carried in the parade by Mr. McAneny and Mr. Blewitt.

Next to the thrill of the first long trousers comes that of being introduced at a luncheon club.

pearances, tall, too, and of a military bearing, I think. Naturally, I'd like him to be husky."

"Haven't you seen such a lad yet?"

The singer nodded.

"But," she said quickly, "he has been either too old or too young or too poor——"

"Would you expect your husband to support you?"

"Certainly," she cried. "I want an American husband, I said. I want a man who would assume all family responsibilities. I couldn't respect a man who would expect me to go fifty-fifty on the household expenses, even though my income runs into six figures annually.

"But I wouldn't want him to manage my affairs either, no matter how good a business man he might be. I have a manager for that. This Mr. Right Man must keep his hands off my career and not object to it. My sister's unhappiness arose over her husband's attitude toward her career."

Of course Miss Ponselle wants children. She wants all that goes to make for a happy family. But her career must not be disturbed.

"Divorce?" she said. "I want no divorce to mar my life. That's why I'm being so particular about a husband. I want permanency in love. The love of an opera star is a romantic one. Perhaps that is why we often think ourselves in love. But I'm sure I'll know the real love when it comes along. I'm quite sure."

He blamed his lack of success in securing converts here on the various denominational bodies who had supported his revival.

Those who have seen St. Louis in its more sober and cheerless moments would have doubted they were in the same town. It was something new for the fans of the city to have the honor of claiming the world's championship baseball team and the novelty was a contagious outburst.

All afternoon the celebration lasted and grew. Nightfall came and it gathered momentum. Morning came and there was little let-up.

Traffic jams were ever present. Police gave no concern and if they did have any, it went for naught. There was only one thing that mattered and all else went into oblivion. The Cards had won.

Flappers wearing red hats and sweaters, sheiks with their pants rolled to their knees displaying red hose, lent color to the demonstration.

N. Y. Girls Chew Gum to Slenderize

Girls and young matrons who are beginning to "spread" and get fat may now make use of a new, simple method that is proving a valuable aid in keeping the figure trim and slender. They can use the plan now so popular in New York society. This new method consists of establishing proper eliminative regularity through the use of a harmless, tasteless ingredient originally discovered in Vienna. Reductions of several pounds a week are reported in many cases. It acts quickest when well chewed—hence it is embodied in a deliciously flavored chewing gum called "Slends". Local druggists have already arranged to supply this new medicated gum. Start to chew Slends today—you will note effects tomorrow.

Honor Donnelly At Banquet Here Saturday Afternoon

Luncheon Event For Representatives Of Equitable Life Assurance Society

Luncheon held at 1 o'clock Saturday at the New Castle Field club, for some 50 representatives of the Equitable Life Assurance society of this section and their wives, was in the nature of an event honoring M. J. Donnelly, local representative, for the part that he had in the placing of large amounts of group insurance among the employes of the Carnegie Steel company and Edward A. Woods of Pittsburgh, Pa., head of the Edward A. Woods company agency of the Equitable society, who just returned from his summer vocation at Lake Placid, N. Y.

The representatives in attendance were from as far east as Harrisburg, north as Erie, Pa., west as far as Youngstown and south as far as Wheeling West Va.

At the opening of the luncheon, Mr. Donnelly asked that all arise and stand for a minute in silent prayer in memory of the late George A. Rigby, former head of the New Castle Works of the Carnegie Steel company, which was the first of the steel corporation plants to take up group insurance. In asking this tribute, he told that Mr. Rigby had much to do with the success of the move here and elsewhere and was himself in on the group.

The speakers of the affair, which lasted until about 2:30 o'clock were Fred L. Rentz, Mr. Woods and Mr. Donnelly.

Never a Marcel Wave

By Edna Wallace Hopper

My hair is ever-curly, with never a Marcel wave. And it always has a glow. The reason lies in a hair dress made exclusively for me. It was perfected for me by great experts when I had my long hair bobbed. Now all toilet counters supply it under the name Edna Wallace Hopper's Wave and Sheen. The price is 75c.

I cannot conceive of a girl or woman going without it when she knows. No one who sees my hair will do so. Nothing else I have ever found makes hair so lustrous, so wavy, so fluffy, so abundant. My guarantee is enclosed with every bottle, so it costs you nothing if it doesn't please. Go try it at my expense.

WHEN YOUTH LEARNS

EDUCATION does not begin until one is 25 and continues until 85, if it ends at all, says a British novelist. Tell that to the sophisticated youth of the present. Is there a flapper who does not think she knows infinitely more than her mother, and is there a cigaretted youth who does not think he can teach his father? While the older may know better, youth holds to its fancied superiority.

As for the diplomaed thousands, how dare even the boldest novelist question their education? Do not most of them nurse the illusion that they know all that is to be known? Age will teach them otherwise, but youth has to learn for itself. And when it has learned that its fancied wisdom was largely folly and that its imagined education was lacking in much of the real thing, it is no longer youth. That is the tragedy of it.

QUEEN'S VISIT

MUCH interest is felt in the forthcoming visit to this country of Queen Marie of Rumania who is now in Paris with members of the royal party. She is expected to sail on Tuesday and on her arrival in the United States will be the recipient of many official attentions, including a dinner at the white house. The popular queen has expressed a desire to see as much of the new world as possible, and an extensive program has been arranged, subject, of course, to change. New York and Washington are naturally included, and, of course, the royal visitor will go to Philadelphia to view the wonders of the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition.

WRITE CHEERFUL LETTERS

MAYBE you never thought it, but a cheerful letter is a fine tonic, and it is just as easy to write a cheerful letter as a gloomy one. Of course, some of us are better writers than others, but there is no reason why the ordinary letter can not be cheerful, there is no good reason why the ordinary writer, or the poor writer, can not sound a cheerful note when writing the ordinary letter.

Cheer is a big thing. The clever writer of a business letter studies the scientific meaning of the word: he knows all about it—psychologically and temperamentally. The bulk of a business letter may be purely matter-of-fact in text, yet, somewhere, the clever writer will sound the cheerful note that leaves a splendid taste in the mouth of the reader.

You are always glad to receive letters from some people. Why? The answer is that you know their letters are cheerful, that these writers have a way of telling things without the gloomy aspects, and—well, you just feel good over hearing from them, that's all. Again, there are some people who seemed determined to look altogether on the dark side of everything and their views are invariably reflected in the letters they send out to their friends and their business correspondents.

A cheerful letter is like a beacon light to a weary traveler who has lost his way; it comes with all the refreshing sweetness of a summer morn and the honeyed sunshine of spring.

GARY SEES PROSPERITY

JUDGE GARY, of the United States Steel Corporation, celebrating his eightieth birthday, predicts continued prosperity in this country for this year and next and sees no reason for a serious slump at any time in the future. He holds that the suggested five-day-a-week plan for industrial workers is uneconomic. He believes that with everybody willing to work and intelligent voting on the part of the people good times should be continued indefinitely.

The turn-over value isn't much if there is a ditch there.

EQUIPMENT

You've all that the greatest of men have had,
Two arms, two hands, two legs, two eyes,
And a brain to use if you would be wise.
With this equipment they all began,
So start for the top and say, "I can".

Look them over, the wise and great,
They take their food from a common plate
And similar knives and forks they use,
With similar laces they tie their shoes,
The world considers them brave and smart,
But you've all they had when they made their start.

You can triumph and come to skill,
You can be great if you only will,
You're well equipped for what fight you choose,
You have legs and arms and a brain to use,
And the man who has risen great deeds to do
Began his life with no more than you.

You are the handicap you must face,
You are the one who must choose your place,
You must say where you want to go,
How much you will study the truth to know,
God has equipped you for life, but He
Lets you decide what you want to be.

Courage must come from the soul within,
The man must furnish the will to win,
So figure it out for yourself, my lad,
You were born with all that the great have had,
With your equipment they all began,
Get hold of yourself and say: "I can".

All the arguments in favor of kissing are quite all right, but the only sound argument in favor of handshaking is political.

For the first time since the Volstead act was put into effect a jury in Pittsburgh gave a widow and her children a verdict because a saloonkeeper had sold the husband liquor that was the cause of his death. If the saloons had gone out of business when the Volstead act was put into force a great deal of the law violation would not be now.

The assistant city solicitor of Pittsburgh says golf is one of the greatest evils. He unbosomed the following and we are reproducing his stuff just to let people know this game of golf is not unanimous. Read this: "In my experience, when a man takes up golf the first thing he does is to forget his church, the second thing he does is to take to drink and the third thing he does is to die while in the prime of life. Whether death is caused by golf, by forgetting church or by drink, I do not know. It is probably a combination of all three."

AINT IT THE TRUTH?

I have an automobile,
It's as nice as nice can be,

When out upon the road I drive
I do not let them pass,
And best of all my grocer

And if I break an axle
No need for me to care,

But if in trouble I should get
It's grocery bill—good night.

Judge Gary, 80 years old yesterday, was at work late in the afternoon making up for time lost in greeting friends. Some "big banking interests," it is said, would like another man, already selected, in Judge Gary's place. Stockholders of United States Steel might like to be heard on that point.

Judge Gary took hold of the steel company when its stocks, both common and preferred, were pure air and the bonds sold to the public were water. Andrew Carnegie, who sold the concern, would't take those bonds as a gift.

The preferred stock closed last night at 127½, the common stock at 146 7-8. The company has $400,000,000 cash on hand, absolutely unlimited iron and coal reserves, here and abroad, and can sell steel, at a profit, for less than any competitor can make it.

To any banker suggesting to Judge Gary that he retire under such conditions, the judge would be justified in giving the modern American reply, "So is your old man."

His immediate ancestors include the preserver of the famous Elgin Marbles, which are now in the British Museum, as well as many famous statesmen and colonial governors. Dr. Crane's Editorial

BENEVOLENT CONTRIBUTIONS

Are endowed colleges, churches, hospitals and similar institutions good things or not?

Most people think they are, but others question it. Some say that an institution becomes merely a house, furnishing a living to a lot of sinecures.

An institution is probably looked at most justly when it is regarded as the community's own tax upon itself. It then becomes a democratic affair because it is supported by the people and they have a constant right to criticize it. If their criticism becomes too severe and is thought to be well founded, the institution has difficulty in raising any more money.

It is for this reason that large givers like John D. Rockefeller usually agree to contribute only a part and require the public to come in on the other part. This avoids resting the institution peculiarly upon the gift of one man and makes it responsible to the public.

If institutions are a public benefit—if it is good to have a hospital or a church, a university or an organization — then they should be supported by organized effort.

One of the outstanding figures today in organized philanthropic money raising is Charles S. Ward, of Flushing, Long Island. He is the originator of the intensive method by which instead of letting a worthy cause drag along for years, a group of interested men get together and get the job done in a week or ten days. He has engineered the raising of some of the largest amounts ever given by the public. One feat was the securing of the first $100,000,000 for the Red Cross during the war.

Besides raising hundreds of millions during the war, Mr. Ward and his associates have since directed the raising of more than $400,000,000 for hospitals, colleges, churches Christian associations, Boy and Girl Scouts, orphanages, homes for the aged, and institutions for human betterment.

His plan is to gather together voluntary helpers and organize them. Months of preparatory work is often necessary. The work of solicitation is done by voluntary workers prominent men who give up their time for a definite period during the campaign. But in order that their labors may not be wasted by cross purposes, everything is worked out systematically so that at the get together dinners and meetings, everyone knows just what his work is and does it quickly.

Today all over this country and even in Europe are thousands of buildings and institutions, centers of influence and helpfulness existing as silent monuments to this method.

Of course these institutions might be supported by the government, that is, handed down to the people from above. It is probably better, however, to have them supported by the people themselves; in short, to arrive from below.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

JAILING AN ARMY.

It was on a quiet Sunday in August that Captain A. A. Hopkins of the Department of Justice of the United States, aided by three Deputy U. S. Marshalls, the Sheriff of San Diego County and six Deputy Sheriffs, captured a whole Revolutionary Army at Dulzura, San Diego County, three miles across country from the Mexican Border The Army was one designed to form a nucleus for a greater army below the Border, and eventually overturn the present Mexican Government. It consisted of one hundred and fifty men—officers and privates—a six ton steel plated armored truck, two ten-ton trucks of rifles, machine guns and ammunition, and three trucks for transportation of men and supplies. The army's ammunition consisted of four hundred Springfield rifles, two machine guns, a miscellaneous assortment of small arms, and one hundred fifty-five thousand rounds of ammunition.

All of this was captured by Captain Hopkins and his men without the firing of a shot, or a single blow struck! The whole story had a tinge of one of Richard Harding Davis' South American yarns. The real story of this affair, however, followed in the disposition of the prisoners. The Army was arrested, and the personnel thereof was charged with conspiring against a friendly Government. But the question immediately arose as to what was to be done with the Army. Nobody seems to have provided a section in the Government Book of Rules on what to do with an Army, when captured. It must be borne in mind that the men constituting this Army, are not to be looked upon as criminal prisoners, they are political prisoners. The San Diego County Sheriff had no hankering to take them under his care, —his calaboose was overcrowded as it was, and anyway, somewhere in the Constitution it says something about quartering troops upon an unwilling populace.

United States Marshall Sittell, upon whose shoulders fell the job of housing and feeding the captive Army had an idea. He had heard that the Marines often "landed", but he had never heard what it was they "landed". He thought they might have "landed" an Army. Forthwith the Army was turned over to General Smedley Butler, in charge of the Marine Base at San Diego. It will be remembered that among the other things for which General Butler became famous was his attempt to clean up Philadelphia. That also appears to have been SOME JOB.

But as to this Army of Mexican Revolutionists, I did not see the official Log, but it is said it went something like this:

A tall sergeant of the Marines stopped briskly into General Butler's office, walked over to the General seated behind his desk, snapped into a fine salute, and then after looking about cautiously, whispered into the General's ear. "Great Scott, No!" exclaimed the General.

"On the level, General, it's a fact!" said the sergeant, having resumed his proper stance. "One jumped on Private McCarthy, who was guarding their quarters last night."

Whereupon General Butler went into the quarters occupied by the Mexican Army and took a look for himself. After a look, he wired Washington, "I have met the Enemy, and he is lousy; take him out of here."

It was one time when the marines had "landed", but did not have the situation very well in hand". Marshall Sittell came to the rescue and bundled the Army of Insurgents aboard a train and took them to Los Angeles, where he found quarters for the Army on the top floor of the new Los Angeles jail. Now if you ask Juan, Pedro, Jose, or any of the rest of the Army if it is true they had cooties, they will either shrug their shoulders and reply "no spiggoty English", or they will stoically deny it. No, they did not carry any "las pulgas" with them. "But the authorities say you did."

"Oh, si, si, mebbe one-two los hombres had some pulgas, but that is all."

In passing it might be said that this assorted army was not made up of the rag tag and bob tail that you might expect. In personnel, they are much above the average Mexican. The Government says there are some very good soldiers among them, some truck drivers, mechanics, and men who know how to handle fire arms. Their commander was General Enrique Estrada, who gave himself the modest title of Civil Engineer, but who was one of the leaders of the de la Huerta Revolution some few years ago, and what at one time also Secretary of War in Mexico, and Commander of the Vera Cruz district.

The children are away at school now, leaving parents without guides to drift back into their old ways.

POEMS HOVE

BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"A Love Song" by Norman Gale.

This English poet is a contemporary of Sir Henry Newbolt, Yeats and A. E. He writes far too seldom these days. His verse and perhaps the new school in this is marked by a flawless technique, country would spurn his cadences—and secretly give everything they possess to be able to imitate him. If he is "old-fashioned" then it would be well if some of our petulant radicals found their way along that path which leads to his lovely method of singing.

O to think, O to think as I see her stand there
With the rose that I plucked, in her glorious hair,
In the robe that I love,
So demure and so neat,
I am lord of her lips and here eyes
and her feet.

O to think, O to think when the last hedge is leapt,
When the blood is awakened that
dreamingly slept,
I shall make her heart throb
In its cradle of lace,
As the lord of her hair and her breast and her face.

O to think, O to think when her wedding bells ring,
When our love's at the summer but
life's at the spring,
I shall guard her asleep
As my hound guards her glove,
Being lord of her life and her heart and her love!

Young People Name Officers

Excellent Conference Is Held At Mahoning Church Sunday

PROGRAM IS ONE OF INSPIRATION

Enthusiasm interspersed with a splendid interest in religious activities characterized the eighth annual Young People's Conference and election of officers of the Young People's Division of the New Castle district Sunday afternoon and evening in the Mahoning Methodist church of this city.

The conference was attended by one of the largest gatherings ever held in the history of the organization, about 500 being present at the evening session. An especially pleasing feature of the occasion was that there were 142 new delegates present, young people from the various Bible schools who had never attended a conference of this nature.

Thirty-two schools of the district answered to roll call. The largest delegation present was from the First M. E. church, 15 answering to roll call, the second largest number 12 from the First Presbyterian church and the third largest, 10 from the Epworth M. E. church.

One hundred and fifty young people and their leaders responded to the challenge for consecrated leadership.

Afternoon Session.

The afternon session opened at 2 o'clock with Mis Geneva Fleming, associate superintendent, presiding. Registration was in charge of Ethel Brewster and Russell McKnickle. J. M. Bevan was song leader.

An unusually attractive program was presented by T. J. Davies, superintendent of Young People's work in the district. The program included a separate girls' and boys' session, short talks and music. The address of welcome was given by Q. E. Davy of the conference church who paid high tribute to the Young People's Council as a training school for young leaders.

Mrs. Lyda Bean of Greenville Pa., superintendent of Young People's work in Mercer county was the principal speaker of the conference Mrs. Bean has been associated in the work of Young People for a number of years. She gave an excellent address on the subject "The Call to Service." She emphasized the great need of friendships. She said that friendships are transforming both earthly and divine friendships. If one's religion does not compel one to serve it is not Christian. She said she did not see youth as it is today but as it will be in 10 years hence. Serving, winning and producing in the Master's Kingdom should be the motto for all young people.

W. D. McKnight complemented New Castle Young People's division and brought hearty greetings from the county organizations.

Rev. G. C. Fohner associate pastor of the First Presbyterian church called the newly elected officers to the alter and made an appealing address charging them their new responsibilities. He emphasized "Loyalty."

Rev. Fohner's talk was a very happy one, triumph of elevating thoughts.

New Officers.

The new officers elected were the following: Girls president, Rebecca Gwin of the Mahoning M. E. church; first vice president, Marcia Platt of the First M. E.; second vice president, Henrietta Campbell of the First Presbyterian; secretary, Mary Elizabeth Sharp of the First Presbyterian.

Boys president, Clarence Bratchie of the Central Presbyterian church; first vice president, Fred McKenzie of the Maitland Primitive; second vice president, De Wayne Glenn of the Second United Presbyterian church; secretary, Warren Porter of the Central Presbyterian church; joint treasurer, Margaret Cowan of the Epworth M. E. church.

Rev. D. C. Schnebly pastor of the Mahoning Presbyterian church very ably conducted a most instructive period. Among the promlems discussed were young people's attendance at the morning and evening church service; absentees of the teen age in the Bible school classes; getting boys interested in Young People's socieies; making the Young People's society a great success.

Rev. J. N. Croxall pastor of the conference church, divided the Conference Challenge in three ways: They were, first "Who Calls You?" second, "Who is Called?" third, "Why?" Rex. Croxall stressed God's fatherly interest in man and mankind's indebtedness and dependability and our own accountability for service to mankind in our day and generation. About 150 young people responded to this challenge.

Griff Thomas gave an interesting heart to heart talk to the boys He emphasized clean living and clean thinking. He said every boy was his sister's keeper and should respect the other fellow's sister as sacredly as his own.

The Friendship Circle closed the conference, about 500 taking part. Rev. W. W. Sniff pastor of the Madison avenue Christian church conducted this service which was most impressive.

Meighan in "Tin Gods" At Penn This Week

Thomas Meighan in 'Tin Gods'

Movie fans remember Tom Meighan in "Manslaughter" and "The Miracle Man". They remember him for his stellar work in "Back Home and Broke", but somehow each picture he makes seems to be a little better than the last.

Today, tomorrow and Wednesday, Meighan is seen in the Penn Theatre in "Tin Gods" a Paramount picture, directed by Allan Dwan. "Tin Gods" is the story of a young engineer and his wife who has political ambitions. It provides Meighan with a vehicle whereby he can show to the best advantage his wonderful dramatic ability. A picture that has a heart appeal, with scenic background that appeals to the love of the beautiful.

With Meighan is that star of "The Big Parade" Renee Adoree, and Aileen Pringle, William Powell and Hale Hamilton. It's a splendid picture, one that should draw well, and undoubtedly will.

Delay Flight Of Navy Dirigible

Unfavorable Weather Causes Postponement of Start Early This Morning

(International News Service)

LAKEHURST, N. J., Oct. 11. — An unfavorable weather forecast today delayed the scheduled flight of the navy dirigible Los Angeles to Dearborn, Mich. The training cruise will be made to test the mooring mast erected by Henry Ford on his airport at Dearborn.

Lieut. Commander Joseph E. Rosendahl, skipper of the Los Angeles, received the unfavorable weather report from Washington shortly after midnight. He was undecided as to whether the flight would start this afternoon.

Although Commander Rosendahl is confident that the flight will be made without mishap, every precaution was being taken because of the crash of the dirigible Shenandoah last year in a storm over Ohio.

The Los Angeles will carry a crew of eleven officers and 31 enlisted men.

Planned, three starting from Lakehurst and one from the mast-ship Patoka, at Newport, R. I.

KRESGE WILL FIGHT MOVE

Will Contest Effort Of His Wife To Remove Divorce Case To New York

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Sebastian S. Kresge, millionaire 5-and-10-cent store operator, will fight the attempt of his wife, Doris Mercer Kresge, to remove his divorce action to New York, his attorney, Paul W. Voorhies, declared today.

Kresge is being sought by a messenger bearing certified copies of a New York supreme court order restraining him from prosecuting his divorce action in Michigan. He is "out of town on a business trip," according to his attorney, and will not be back for several days.

Mrs. Kresge contends her husband is not a legal resident of Michigan and that Michigan courts have no jurisdiction in his action.

The suit filed by Kresge against his second wife charges her with abandonment, which is sufficient grounds for a divorce in Michigan. In New York, however, divorce laws are more limited and Kresge would be unable to sue on such grounds.

The suit follows settlement out of court of Mrs. Kresge's suit for 17,500 shares of Kresge company stock. Mrs. Kresge contended her husband had promised the shares before their marriage. Instead, she said, he gave her a present almost insignificant enough to have been taken from the stock of one of his stores.

Late Cutting Hurts Future Alfalfa Crop

Many Lawrence county farmers who have a nice growth of alfalfa in their fields are tempted to take it off for hay.

"If the alfalfa is to be plowed up next year for a crop and the hay is really needed, cutting will do no harm except to remove from the field the fertility the tops contain," declares County Agent McCulloch. "However, if the alfalfa is expected to produce a maximum crop next year a good growth should be left for winter protection."

In some sections the third crop has not been taken off on account of rainy weather. The above conditions apply to such cases as this also, he states. There must be a certain amount of stored plant nutrients in the roots. Late cutting does not give the alfalfa a chance to recover from the shock and get ready for the period of dormancy.

Can Society Make Us Abolish

Marriage and Morals?

Four writers—one a woman of exalted social position—another an internationally famous judge—the third and fourth the greatest social novelists in America—give their authoritative answers in the four greatest literary features that have ever been published in a single magazine.

JUDGE BEN B. LINDSEY on The Moral Revolt
MRS. PHILIP LYDIG on The Tragedy of Gilded Youth
OWEN JOHNSON'S GREAT STORY "Children of Divorce"
RUPERT HUGHES' LATEST NOVEL "We Live But Once"

IN a democracy the mass of the people are given to imitation of the few. The few in America are the idle rich, who, in their search for new sensations, flamboyantly place themselves not only above the law but outside the moral code that society has evolved for its own discipline and salvation.

What once were secrets held inviolate are today openly discussed; habits of life once surreptitiously indulged are today boasted of; customs that have their roots in the safety of society are boldly being displaced by a code that justifies "anything you can get away with."

Whence came this amazing change in our manners and customs, no one knows. One declares it to be the direct result of the unbalancing of society by the Great War; another traces its origin to the possession of more wealth, almost overnight, on the part of vastly more people than ever before.

And no one is better placed to produce actual evidence of the change than Judge Ben B. Lindsey, of the internationally famous Family Court of Denver.

A tolerant man, an understanding man, but, more than all else, a brave man, he is presenting that evidence—and his conclusions—under the startling title, "The Moral Revolt," in the frankest series of articles that have ever appeared in a magazine.

Case after case from his own Court, related in all their illuminating details, are offered by him in support of his belief that a new code of morals, particularly in relation to sex, is being evolved under our eyes today.

And in further support of Judge Lindsey's belief, Mrs. Philip Lydig, all of whose life has been spent in the world of fashionable society here and abroad, comes forward with an article entitled, "The Tragedy of Gilded Youth," in which she too cites case after case of youthful destruction as a result of young people growing up in the atmosphere that surrounds their rich and idle elders.

Nor is that all. For in the fascinating form of the novel, Mr. Owen Johnson and Mr. Rupert Hughes, themselves familiar with all strata of society, present dramatic pictures of just what is proceeding on the inside of that society. Their novels, "Children of Divorce" and "We Live But Once," are written with no less frankness and first-hand knowledge than the articles by Judge Lindsey and Mrs. Lydig.

In addition to these contributions of the deepest human interest, the same magazine offers, in its November issue, the best and latest work of the most popular novelists and short-story writers—among others, Struthers Burt, Robert Benchley, Arthur Mason, James Hopper, Virginia Dale, Margaret Culkin Banning, and Samuel Scoville, Jr.

TWO KILLED IN EXPLOSION

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—Explosion of a boiler in the La France textile manufacturing industries plant here today killed two workmen and probably fatally injured a third.

The dead are:

Earl Firth, 24, and John Stock, 27.

Fred Schisler, 45, is in Frankford hospital in a critical condition.

The trio according to police, were changing the steam from high to low pressure when a valve jammed, causing the boiler to explode.

The building was demolished and the men buried under tons of debris, when the explosion occurred last night.

If Mussolini thinks his star of destiny is certain protection, let him come over here and try it on Main street.

Potato Soup—Cook three small potatoes, one small onion and a stalk or two of celery in a little water until tender. Strain through a coarse sieve. Put a large tablespoon of butter in double boiler, melt, add a level tablespoon flour, mix smooth, add one pint of milk, let come to a boil add potato mixture, let cook for a few moments and serve.

Browned Potatoes — Boil small potatoes until tender and brown in fat in pan in which the lamb chops were cooked.

SUGGESTIONS

Use a wooden spoon in mixing a cake and you will find a wooden potato masher excellent for creaming butter and sugar. The cake will also be much lighter.

Cut hangers from heavy cardboard and run a rod through a hole at the top. Place the rod in the children's clothes closet at a height that they can reach. Thus they can find their own garments. It encourages them to hang them up properly after wearing. The hangers are strong enough to hold children's dresses, waists and housedresses and keeps them in better shape and easier to find than when hung on hooks or piled on shelves. As the hangers are strung on the rod they cannot be pulled down or fall off like the wire hangers.

Some of the pretty new mat sets are made of thin bolting cloth, embroidered in colorful patterns to match the Dresden china. Others are done in blue to match the Chinese ware and others use the gay peasant patterns.

Some of the newest sets made of fine, strong Russian linen, have figures of Cossacks, familiar Russian street figures, sleighs and the Russian bear. A great deal of black, dark blue and green appears in this work with orange and Russian red.

In restringing pearl necklaces or other strings of beads have you tried using an E violin string? It will last for about a year, and is stiff only for a few wearings. Needles for stringing beads can be purchased at any jewelry shop for a small amount.

Scraps of soap can be put through a food chopper and used as soap chips.

Ham Omelet—Separate yolks and whites of four eggs, beat well, add one tablespoon hot water to yolks, fold in whites, season with salt and pepper, then fold in cooked ham chopped fine. Pour into well greased frying pan if you have no omelet pan, cook on top of stove until evenly brown on the under side, put in slow oven to finish cooking, then fold and turn out on platter.

Apple Tapioca — Cook one-half cup pearl tapioca in four cupfuls of boiling water until transparent, add one-half teaspoonful salt and grated rind of one lemon. Core and pare eight apples, arrange in deep baking dish, fill cavities with sugar (three-fourths cupful for all) and a few drops of lemon juice. Pour over tapioca and bake in a moderate oven until apples are tender. Dot with one tablespoon butter before removing from oven. Serve hot or cold with sweetened cream.

French Cookies—One and one-half cupfuls (one-half pound) brown sugar, one level cup (one-half pound) butter, two eggs, two tablespoons cocoa, one cup cold coffee, one cup chopped raisins, one teaspoon baking powder, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon cloves, one teaspoon vanilla, three cups flour. Cream butter, sugar and eggs in mixing bowl, add cocoa, cinnamon, cloves, vanilla, coffee and raisins. Then add flour and baking powder sifted together. Pour into well greased dripping pan. Bake in quick oven about twenty minutes. When cold cut in squares and spread with frosting.

SUGGESTIONS

When arranging a centerpiece of stiff-stemmed flowers in a large bowl if you have no flower holder large enough, fill the bowl with fine pebbles that you use when you grow narcissus bulbs in the winter, and stick the ends of the stems in those. With just water enough to cover the pebbles the flowers will be kept beautifully ,and held in place as well as with a regular holder.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was first to find the remedy and called his prescription HEM-ROID. Dr. Leonhardt tried it in 1,000 cases with the marvelous record of success in 98 per cent and then decided it should be sold by druggists everywhere under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from McKee's Cut Rate Store and Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., today. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands and will do the same for you.

Ellwood Wins From Beaver

Lawrence County Champs Take Victory At Beaver, 21-0

ELLWOOD DEFENSE BAFFLES BEAVER

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Oct. 11.—Ellwood high came thru with a well earned victory at Beaver Saturday. Ellwood's line plays and forward passes soon showed the down valley fans which was the better team. The score when the final whistle blew was 21 to 0.

With two regulars, Sanders and Labate, ineligible, the Ellwood team played some game. The eleven worked as smooth as the 1925 eleven did in any of its games.

Ellwood made touchdowns in the first, third and fourth quarters. One was a line plunge of 11 yards by Johnston and the others were made by Demas on forward passes, one of 66 yards and the other from the 20-yard line.

The local line showed what it was made of in the third quarter. Beaver started a drive from the Ellwood 27-yard line when Statti was hurt and let the ball drop out of his hands. A Beaver man recovered it. Carrying the ball down the field to a first down on Ellwood's 4-yard line, but the stone wall held and shoved them back two yards in four downs. Jim MacMurdo was at the bottom of every pile in this defensive playing. The backfield acted like the four horsemen. They were fast on the line plays and executed some passes for big gains.

Clyde at quarterback seems to be the right man for the job. He is small but is right there to run back punts. He kicked all three tries for the extra point.

The game was full of brilliant playing. The best play was the pass, Justine to Demas, which netted a 66-yard run for a touchdown. Demas caught the pass on the 46-yard line and tore down the field with only two Beaver men in front of him. He outran one of them and sidestepped the other as he tried to tackle him. Don Johnston threw the pass which gave Demas his other touchdown. It was good for 20 yards.

Statti and Johnston both made an 18-yard run from scrimmage. Statti was largely responsible for Ellwood's touchdown. It put the ball on the 11-yard line from which Johnston took it over. Justine played good and threw some well directed passes. Beaver pulled some fine hidden ball plays. For a short time the Ellwood players were bewildered by them. McClosky and Karns showed up best for Beaver.

Ellwood lost two beautiful passes of 21 and 18 yards respectively. These were not allowed because the passer was not five yards behind the line of scrimmage.

The first half of the game ended with Ellwood leading 7 to 0. Beaver did not threaten or make a first down in this half. Ellwood's touchdowns started when Hamilton kicked out of bounds on the 50-yard line. Don Johnston threw a forward pass to Demas for 14 yards and went thru the line for seven more on the next play. Statti tore thru for 18 yards on an off-tackle play and Don took it over from the 11. When the half ended Ellwood had the ball on the Beaver 17-yard line.

In the third quarter Beaver played her best. MacMurdo kicked off to the Beaver 36, and Beaver took it to the Ellwood 45 on end runs. They were forced to kick after a 13-yard penalty and the ball went out of bounds no the Ellwood 17. Statti was good for eight yards but he hurt his arm and fumbled the ball. Beaver recovered. McClosky and Chambon got 11 yards between them for a first down on the 15-yard line. Another first down followed which put the ball on Ellwood's 4-yard line, but Ellwood's line braced and shoved Beaver back on the next three plays. An incomplete pass over the goal line put the ball in Ellwood's possession on the 20-yard line. Justine kicked to the 48-yard line where it was downed by McCarthy. Two Beaver passes totaled 17 yards and a fumble made it Ellwood's ball on the 26-yard line. Clyde got two thru the line and Johnston went off tackle for six more. Justine threw a pass to Demas on the next play and Demas went down the field 66 yards for a touchdown.

The last quarter was all Ellwood again. McCarthy recovered a fumble on the 20-yard line and after Buzzelli and Johnston each failed to gain thru the line, Johnston passed to Clyde for a gain of four yards and passed to Demas for another touchdown on the next play. The game ended with Beaver in possession of the ball on their own 40-yard line.

Local Pastor Accepts Call To College Hill Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Oct. 11.—At the morning service in the United Presbyterian church Rev. James A. Cosby informed his congregation of his resignation to take effect as soon as he can be released. He has been pastor of the local church for the last ten years and has a splendid growing record behind him, his congregation having doubled, the debt of the church building now paid off and a missionary now being entirely supported by the church are just a few of the results of his never untiring efforts.

Rev. Crosby says that his resignation is the result of a call from the United Presbyterian church at College Hill, Beaver Falls, whose vote for him was unanimous at a recent congregational meeting. Previous to coming to Ellwood he was pastor of the church at Tarentum, where he had been for ten years.

On Wednesday evening October 20 the congregation wil have a special meeting at which time his release from the local pastorate will be decided upon. The Presbyterial will meet October 26 and at this time he will be transferred.

Officers Search For Gangsters In Wilmerding Fight

Gangsters Attempt To Kidnap And Wreck Vengeance Upon Prisoner

(International News Service)

WILMERDING, Pa., Oct. 11.—State police, county authorities and city police in the Pittsburgh area today carried on a man hunt for a gang of gunmen who swooped down upon the Wilmerding police station in a futile attempt to kidnap and take vengeance upon a prisoner, beat three men and escaped after three members of their group were believed to have been wounded by their intended victim.

C. R. Shenefelt, patrolman, Miles Shenefelt, a brother, and William B. Shenefelt, son of Miles, were badly beaten by members of the gang who attempted to wrest John Williams, former prohibition agent, from the custody of Police Chief Robert J. Martin. Martin also was attacked, but not badly hurt.

As the gang turned to leave after the attack, Williams seized Patrolman Shenefelt's revolver and opened fire. Three gangsters were apparently hit, but were helped to escape by their companions.

Police later arrested James Volpe of Wilmerding, for questioning.

It was believed that the gang sought to kidnap and possibly kill Williams following a quarrel in a local hotel.

Aimee McPherson Hearing Enters Third Week Today

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11.—Appealing to the Ku Klux Klan for support, Aimee Semple McPherson went to court today for the beginning of the third week of her unprecedented preliminary hearing. The evangelist, her mother, and Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Sielaff of San Francisco are charged with conspiring to produce false testimony.

Distributing printed cards to her congregation, which testify to the signer's unwavering faith in the integrity of the Angelus Temple pastor, Mrs. McPherson said: "How many of you are members of the Klan? Take several hundred cards with you to the meetings and get signatures."

Mention of the Klan as a potential source of strength confirmed earlier indications that the evangelist centers her defense about a charge of "religious frameup."

Expect 300 Will Hear Booth On Tuesday Evening

Dinner Event Of Kiwanians Promises To Be Great Success

Kiwanians who have been disposing of tickets for the Charles Brandon Booth meeting Tuesday night in the First Christian church, reported today that a crowd of approximately 300 would be in attendance.

In addition to the Kiwanis club, the Lions and Quota clubs will hold their weekly meeting as a part of the Booth dinner, the Rotarians will have representatives there and the Ellwood City Kiwanis club is coming over in a body. With the various club members will be their wives and in the case of the Quota club, their husbands.

Charles Brandon Booth is the secretary of the Big Brother and Big Sister Federation and is said to be a dynamic speaker. He is the son of General and Mrs. Ballington Booth and has had years of experience in the work he will present to the Kiwanis club.

He was the speaker at the state Kiwanis convention in Conneaut Lake, and his unusual force as a speaker prompted President Thomas W. Dickey to make arrangements for his appearance here.

Because of a Pittsburgh and Cleveland date coming almost together, it was possible to get him for New Castle. The local Kiwanis club will take care of all the expenses in connection with the dinner, the guests merely paying for the dinner itself.

The dinner opens at 6 o'clock and will be over by 8 o'clock.

B. & O. R. R. Co. Railroadman Gives Facts In Case

Tells of Recovery from Stomach Trouble That Had Him on Verge of Breakdown.

"Since taking World's Tonic I am just like a man made over", recently asserted Mr. Silas D. Reed, 620 Forrest St., City, a well-known railroad man at the B. & O. Shops, New Castle.

"Stomach trouble had me so nervous and played out that I seemed to be right on the verge of a complete breakdown. Indigestion caused heart palpitations and shortness of breath. Headaches tortured me, I couldn't sleep, and I was in such a bad way that I was losing two days a week from my work.

"World's Tonic has put me back in splendid health and I will speak up for it as long as I live. My wife joins me in praising World's Tonic, too. She says I come home from my work smiling now, where I used to come in looking downcast and all tired out. Any way, I feel fine now and haven't missed a day's work in three months".

World's Tonic is sold at Paisley's, Smith's, McKee's Kut Rate Store and Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. and all other reliable drug stores at $1 a bottle. Accept no substitute.

Estimate Twenty Million Changed Hands In Series

Over Two Million Changed Hands On Final Game Of Series Sunday

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Not less than $20,000,000 changed hands on the world series which resulted in a victory for the St. Louis Cardinals over the New York Yankees in seven dramatic games. This was the estimate of Broadway gamblers today as the big "pay-off" began. It was said that two million dollars were bet on yesterday's game alone.

The event thus became the biggest betting series on record, in addition to being the richest. All attendance records were broken when a total of 328,051 persons saw the seven games and the total receipts of $1,207,864 was another high water mark. The best previous attendance record was established at the Giant-Yankee series of 1923 and the richest previous series was that between the Pirates and Senators last year.

Incidentally, the ticket scalpers were losers for the first time in years. They loaded up on choice seats for yesterday's game and were selling them for $1 after rain and cold weather had reduced the crowd to a minimum.

Presbyterians To Launch Campaign For Huge Amount

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 11. — Presbyterian churches in this section have launched their drive for their quota, $1,010,000, of the $15,000,000 asked in the United States for the establishment of a pension fund for the denomination's pastors.

Ministers in 88 Presbyterian churches yesterday in this district explained the pension plan to their congregations.

The movement has already been approved by 3,200 churches. Before the plan is successful 4,000 congregations must adopt it, it was said and its sponsors declared the needed 800 will co-operate within two weeks.

MORE DRIVERS LOSE LICENSES

Thirty-Nine Revocations Are Announced My State Highway Department

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 11.—Action of the county courts, most of which resumed sessions in September, was reflected in the revocations and blacklistings made public today by the State Department of Highways. Twenty-two of the 39 revocations in the past week, and nine of the 13 blacklistings were due to intoxication.

Clerks of the courts are required by law to certify conviction of drivers charged with driving while intoxicated. As soon as the proper certifications reach the department action is taken to revoke the licenses of those found guilty.

There were only five revocations for reckless driving, six for larceny, three for transporting liquor and three on the charge of being a habitual violator of the motor code.

Revocations for intoxication included Burnell G. Allen, Erie; Maxie G. Hull, Donora, and C. W. Leese, Hanover.

The license of William H. Furnal, Erie, was revoked for reckless driving.

Operation of a gang of motor thieves in the Pittsburgh district resulted in all six of the revocations for larceny. They were Peter Lamiskey, McKees Rocks; Brandon Blake, Jerome F. Burke, William McGraw, Jerome Koskoden and George Floyd, all of Pittsburgh.

F. E. Cunningham, Uniontown, was included in the list of those blacklisted for intoxication.

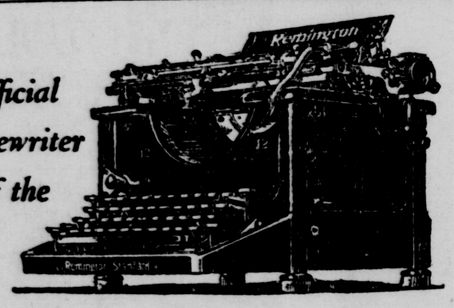
Official Typewriter of the



SESQUI-CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION

THIS annoucement is a most impressive reminder of the extraordinary record of Remington progress during the past fifty years.

Fifty years ago, at the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia, the Model 1 Remington, the first practical typewriter and the ancestor of all present-day writing machines, received its initial public exhibition. The advent of this machine marked the beginning of a new business era.

This year another great Exposition, the Sesqui-Centennial, will be held at Philadelphia and the designation of the Remington as the Official Typewriter of this Exposition is signal recognition of its commanding position today as founder and leader of the industry.

The outstanding feature of Remington leadership in this Sesqui-Centennial year is the completeness of the Remington Line—which includes a machine for every purpose. And every one of these machines is the last word in typing efficiency.

"Alimony Game" Often Reverses

Russian Women Often Forced To Pay Alimony Instead Of Husbands

IDEA WOULD BE WELCOMED HERE

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW, Oct. 11.—The "alimony game", popular among unscrupulous women, is sometimes played with reverse English in Soviet Russia. The well known legal provision of the Soviet statutes that a divorced man may obtain alimony from his wife if she has employment and he has not, is no mere paper law. Soviet husbands are beginning to appreciate its sound worth, and to wring from their former wives as much as the judge will allow.

The married couple Pavloff, both workers, decided after four years of storm and stress to part their ways. Mrs. Pavloff took two of the children and Mr. Pavloff took two. Mr. Pavloff, however, earned but 40 roubles a month while Mrs. Pavloff earned 75. Mr. Pavloff asked Mrs. Pavloff to help him out with a little contribution. She refused.

Taken to court, Mrs. Pavloff told the judge "I'll never pay that man a cent."

"You are sentenced to pay 20 roubles a month alimony for support of the children," responded the judge.

"I won't pay," replied Mrs. Pavloff.

"Six months in jail, conditionally," said the judge.

Rather than go to jail, Mrs. Pavloff paid.

Chairman Tomsky of the All Union Council of Trade Unions, is strong for the practical employment of artistic treasures. If he has his way all the ancient buildings of historical importance now carefully preserved by the Main Science board, will be turned over to the impecunious students of the Moscow higher schools for use as lodgings. A recent survey revealed that Moscow students are living in such crowded quarters that the average space occupied by each is a square six feet long by six feet wide. Tomsky has proposed that all the famous dwellings of counts, princes and grand dukes, many hundreds of years old, be now converted into student dormitories.

A labor conflict brought before the courts in Moscow has revealed that 2,000 miners, engaged in digging peat near this city have timed their coming to work, knocking off for lunch and quitting in the evening by merely looking at the sun. For more than a year there has not been a watch or a clock among either the workmen or their supervisors. The difference in their estimates finally led to a quarrel which required arbitration to settle. The judge advised the disputants to buy a watch.

According to an official announcement, a group of 538 Czecho-Slovakian immigrants has arrived in the republic of Kirgizstan where they will occupy land given them by the Soviet government. They brought with them agricultural implements, and equipment for a textile factory and electrical station.

If all the reports reaching Moscow are true, Russia both European and Asiatic is peppered with gold deposits from the Baltic sea to the Pacific ocean and from Mongolia to the Polar shores of Siberia. Hardly a day passes without some new report of gold discovered in one or another part of the union. The Academy of Sciences has just received a report from the chief of its Vilusk expedition to northern Yakutsk, declaring that the explorers have found a valuable deposit of gold within the Arctic circle.

Dorothy M. Duckwitz In Recital at Penn

In addition to the feature picture to be played at the Penn Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, Dorothy Miller Duckwitz, famous concert pianiste, will appear in a demonstration recital, playing a Baldwin Reproducing piano, and then asking the audience to see if they can detect any difference when the reproducer is used.

The arrangement to have Miss Duckwitz here is the result of the collaboration of the Penn Theatre and the Snyder Piano company. The Baldwin piano reproducing mechanism is under the Welte-Mignon license and is said to be one of the most surprising reproductions ever heard on a concert piano.

No change will be made in the admission prices, as this is just one more proof that the Penn Theatre is endeavoring to secure the best in entertainment for its patrons.

Vetoes Measure For Mercer White Way

Mercer Burgess Refuses To Give Approval—Other News Notes Of Mercer

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Oct. 11. — The first veto of his term of office as burgess of Mercer borough extending over a five year period was signed by Paul Terhune the official today. The veto is put to the ordinance providing for the installation of a White Way in Mercer and is negated by the official because the County Commissioners whose property faces on the four streets of town square that were proposed for lighting refused to sign a sharing contract with the borough. The official also states that investigation has shown him that the lighting would be more expensive than the present system. The official set forth the present cost of lighting in 1925 was $2,489.86. The change in system would run the cost to $3,424.86 he writes.

Wonderful results in refreshened appearance of the stone work on the Mercer county court house is being obtained from the work now being done in sand blasting the stone. The work is a part of the job of William McIntyre Company of Sharon let this summer which provided for the outside repair of the building including the pointing of masonry and the cleaning of the stone and brick. Following the cleaning the surface of the building is to be treated with a coating of material that will prevent disintegration of the materials and will keep the stone from coloring. The contract was let at a price of $19,790.

It will take intensive work if the outside of the building can be all cleaned before the cold weather arrival. Only the belfry has been cleaned so far.

Two of the trio of improved roads built in Mercer County this summer are completed and opened for public use. The third is yet in process of completion. The 1¼ mile built out of here on the Mercer-New Wilmington highway by the Jos. McCarthy Company and the 2½ route from Stambaugh Corners to Five Points in Western Mercer county contracted to the Robert Jamison Company are open. The 3 mile route from Clarks Mills to Sheakleyville contracted to the last named concern of this county has been held up due to wet weather. County Commissioner F. P. Minner says today unless weather conditions improve it is doubtful if this road will be finished before winter.

The county bridges are all completed and opened for traffic excepting that at Clarksville. The road program cost $500,000 and the bridge program $150,000. The state shared in the road building expense.

T. C. Cochran of Mercer will start on a tour of the 28th Pennsylvania Congressional District on Monday. Mr. Cochran is the choice on four tickets for the congressional representative from the district which includes the counties of Mercer, Warren, Venango, Forest and Elk.

The candidate will be with the state candidates on a tour of Elk county which takes place during the coming week. Despite the fact that Mr. Cochran is the choice of the Republicans, Democrats, Prohibitionists and Socialists in the districts he is making this tour that the voters may know that he is not lax in the interest of his party at a time when added nominations might lessen his effort.

Los Angeles Stage Under City Police

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES Oct. 11.—An ordinance placing all theatres in the city under the control of the police commission and giving that body power to close a show at any time will soon be placed before the city council.

The ordinance would virtually make the police commission a board of censorship, thus bringing about a condition similar to that of London, England where censorship regulations have long been a pet antipathy of George Bernard Shaw.

The ordinance was considered when an exploring councilman discovered a show on South Main street where girls danced the "Texas Tommy" with "too few clothes,' the pproprietors of the show it was learned, had been haled into court five times in one day, yet they merely paid a fine and went on with the show.

Ingrown Nail

Turns Right Out Itself

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

If Grove City does not have her new electric power unit to install in the city munisipal electric power plant within a 60 day period it will not be the fault of the Bessemer Gas Engine company who are hastening the construction of the 800 h. p. Diesel engine that will drive the 710 k. w. generator that has been bought. The construction of the engine is assured beyond a doubt. The Bessemer company when given the contract were of the belief that the unit could be installed within a 60 day period which there is not much doubt it can if the addition is ready for it and the generator arrives.

The engine and generator were bid in at a cost of over $38,000.

Bids on the new theatre that will be erected on Broad street on the location of two lots owned by John M. Guthrie will be opened on October 12th.

There are 9 from the George Junior Republic attending the Grove City high school. Divided by sex there are 4 girls and 5 boys. The number is stated by Mr. Brunner the republic superintendent to be the largest of any in the 15 years since the republic opened. Another interesting news item of the republic is printed in the fact that the crop of silo corn at the farm is running 15 to 20 ton to the acre with ten acres to cut. The crop will be used in the feeding of 34 head of pure bred Jersies raised from a foundation herd of three cows. The crop of fodder corn is stated to be the heaviest in the republic history.

Hon. W. D. Upshaw, Georgia Congressman, will be the speaker in the First United Presbyterian church on the date of October 12th. The liquor question will be the subject discussed.

A new record is hung out in Grove City. Two months have slipped into history without a contagious disease being reported in the borough says Secretary D. F. Black of the health board. With a scourge of scarlet fever through the winter and spring followed by an epidemic of measles this summer the condition is a very welcome relief. Every precaution is being taken by the health authorities to present any outbreak of disease.

Plan Agricultural Week At Sesqui, To Start On October 25

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG Pa., Oct. 11.—Plans are rapidly nearing completion for Agricultural week at the Sesqui-Centennial, Philadelphia, during the week of October 25. The Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, the Pennsylvania State College, the Pennsylvania State Grange and other agricultural organizations are co-operating with the Sesqui-Centennial commission in arranging the programs and exhibits for this special week devoted to the farming industry of the state.

Important phases of Pennsylvania's agriculture will be featured, speakers of national reputation will appear on the programs and elaborate exhibits of the state's principal farm products will be arranged.

Monday has been designated as "Cereal Day" when interest will center on the production and marketing of grain in the state. Corn, wheat, oats, rye, barley and buckwheat will be exhibited. Pennsylvania's greatest milling and baking industry, which is taking an increasing amount of the wheat grown in the state, will be represented by an exhibit of special brands of flour milled from the Pennsylvania-grown wheat and of baked products such as pretzels, bread and pastries. One of the features of the program for the day will be an address by Dr. C. F. Noll, Pennsylvania State College on "The Relation of Plant Breeding to Human Welfare." Dr. Noll originated the Pennsylvania 44 variety of wheat, one of the best and most popular varieties grown in the state today.

Tuesday will be "Grange Day" when Grangers from all parts of the state will be in attendance. A program and exhibits have been arranged for this day, the same as for other days of the week. One of the Chester County Granges will make a typical Grange exhibit. The program includes addresses by P. H. Dewey, state master; Fred Brenckman, secretary; John A. McSparran, former master, and Mrs. Jennie Rogers of Delaware county.

Wednesday will be "Vegetable Day" featuring an extensive exhibit of vegetables including mushrooms. The exhibit will be prepared by the vegetable growers in Philadelphia county, one of the leading vegetable sections in Pennsylvania.

Thursday will be "Poultry and Dairy Day". The forenoon will be taken up by a program arranged by the poultry interests. Harry R. Lewis, president of the National Poultry council will be the leading speaker. Prof. H. D. Munroe of the Pensylvania State College will discuss the poultry industry of the state while T. B. Charles will tell of new findings regarding the likes and dislikes of the consumer when buying eggs and poultry. The poultry exhibit will show the development of the flock from incubation to maturity. Another feature will show the proper grading and packing of eggs for marketing and will help consumers to know good eggs.

Dr. C. W. Larsen chief of the Bureau of Dairying, United States Department of Agriculture will be the principal speaker on the afternoon dairy program. The afternoon will be filled with features of particular interest to both producers and consumers of dairy products. A boys' and girls' dairy products judging contest will be staged. Plays will be arranged showing the importance of giving careful attention to diet in maintaining health.

The potato will have its day on Fridal. The center of attraction will likely be the exhibit of peck lots of potatoes from fields yielding 400 bushels or more per acre during the present season. In addition there will be exhibits from the leading counties showing commercial grades and certified seed potatoes.

The big red apple will be the center of the stage on Saturday October 30 which is National Apple day. A gigantic pyramid 16 by 20 feet, with the sides rising about ten feet high will appear as a solid mass of apples in the side of which will be the words "Pennsylvania apples for flavor."

Agricultural week represents the combined effort of leading farm organizations within the state and will focus national as well as statewide attention on the farming industry of Pennsylvania.

Burglar, 16, Shoots Phoenixville Man

Retaliates With Bullet For Blow On Head By Watchman

PHOENIXVILLE, Oct. 11.—Harold G. Lebarrow is in the local hospital in a critical condition from a gunshot wound in the stomach received at midnight when he wrestled with a burglar at the home of his brother-in-law, Calvin Unger, a garage owner at 338 First avenue.

Henry Talley, 16 years old, of 330 First avenue, is under arrest charged with the shooting and has made a confession.

Unger's home was entered four times and the police were notified to maintain a watch. Mr. Unger also employed his brother-in-law as watchman, and shortly before midnight a noise was heard in the house and Lebarrow investigated. He found the intruder and struck him over the head with a board. Before the man could be overpowered, however, he whipped out a revolver and shot Lebarrow in the stomach. Unger, asleep in another part of the house, heard the shot, came to his relative's rescue and held the youth until police arrived.

Questioned at Borough Hall, the boy told the officers he has been sleeping in a barn at Perkiomen Junction for several weeks. His mother lives at the First avenue address, the father being dead. Lebarrow has only a slight chance for recovery, it was stated at the hospital, where he was operated on this morning for the removal of the bullet.

Flavor—
makes children enjoy
the breakfast that's good for them
Children scrape their porridge-bowls clean when you give them oatmeal made with Mother's Oats. They love its rich, whole-grain flavor—and appreciate its smoothness that comes from such careful milling.
And mothers know how good oatmeal and milk is for growing children. Because it provides so liberally the tissue-building substance called protein.
Minerals, too—and vitamins; both absolutely necessary for growth.
None of the valuable parts are removed from Mother's Oats. It has the great advantage of being a whole grain. For children, especially, on account of their special need for growth materials, this has the approval of child health specialists.
That is why mothers are using Mother's Oats more and more frequently—glad to see their children enjoy this wholesome breakfast.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Mrs. Florence Smith Vincent

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT

If anyone had been standing by it is doubtful whether he could have told who was happier to meet the other, the boy or the dog. Each appeared to have fallen in love at first sight.

The boy tried to pet the dog, but had hard work of it because Pat simply could not stand still. He wanted nothing so much in the world as to kiss the boy's face—a way that dogs have when they like somebody very much indeed. But the boy's face was out of reach. Standing on his hind legs and seretching as hard as he could, Pat's forepaws came only to the boy's shoulders. So Pat wriggled and twisted and jumped. At the very instant that Pat leaped up the boy leaned down and their noses met.

"Ow! Hold on, old fellow; that will do!" cried the boy, rubbing his nose with one hand and trying to push Pat away with the other. "We're going to be pals, you and I, but leave me my nose, will you?"

Pat was ashamed of himself then. To think he had hurt the boy the very first thing when he only meant to caress him. Poor Pat's tail dropped between his legs. Down went his ears. His eyes filled with tears and the boy saw them. It was the boy's turn to be sorry.

"There, there, it's all right!" cried he, and stroked Pat's head. "I know you wouldn't hurt me for anything at all, and I wasn't scolding you! Come, look up! See, I'm all right. My nose doesn't hurt a bit, not a bit. Cheer up! That's better! Fine! Now, Sport, let's sit down and talk things over."

"HOW DID YOU KNOW WHAT I SAID BARKED THE DOG.

Meekly Pat followed the boy to the foot of a tree by the roadside and sat down by his side. Still he felt ashamed of himself.

"My name isn't Sport, 'tis Pat!" barked he sadly—not that he cared what the boy called him, but he couldn't think of anything else to say and besides it was a habit of his to speak the truth at all times.

"All right, Pat then!" laughed the boy. And at this Pat forgot to be ashamed and sat up very straight indeed. Pat put a paw on the boy's knee.

"How did you know what I said?" demanded the dog.

NEW CASTLE HIGH TEAM DEFEATS GROVE CITY

Mercer County Team Is Plucky

Visitors Put Up Game Battle, But Fail To Score On New Castle

TWO POINTS ARE AWARDED LOCALS

Final Count Is 35-0—Sillman And Richards Big Ground Gainers

By CHARLES E. ALLEN

Although New Castle High emerged a victor in their tilt with Grove City Hi at Franklin stadium by a score of 35-0 Saturday afternoon, Grove City contested bitterly every inch of ground, and only several fortunate breaks enabled the big Red team to pile up as big a score as they did.

Coached by Joe Hartman, former New Castle and Grove City college star, the Mercer county lads, showed a surprising strength and had the locals guessing at times with their varied assortment of tricks. Had they possessed another backfield star the equal of Fullback Clifford Keck they would undoubtedly have made things much more interesting.

Make Pretty Runs

Quarterback Sillman and Richards proved New Castle's best ground gainers, both reeling off several pretty runs. Sillman's 35-yard dash to the 20 yard line from midfield in the closing moments of the first quarter paving the way for New Castle's first touchdown. Later in the game, he dashed wide off left end for a substantial gain and New Castle's final touchdown. He also showed extreme cleverness in returning punts.

Capt. Robinson, Millison and Christman were outstanding in their defensive work, Christman recovering Robinson's punt, on the 12-yard line at the start of the second half when Negri fumbled it, placing New Castle within easy scoring distance. McGrath also stood out on the defense and was down under every kick.

The New Castle backfield fumbled frequently, their handling of the ball being very ragged. In most instances, they were able to recover, but twice Grove City secured possession of the ball in this manner.

Game Opens

The game opened with Keck getting away a low kick, which bounded off Mooney's knee as he attempted to catch it and was recovered by Peg Thomas on the 35 yard line, Thomas returning it 10 yards before being downed. Richards, Harper and Klaber made a first down, after which Richards got loose for a 15-yard dash, placing the ball on the 20-yard line. Sillman fumbled but recovered and on the next play, New Castle was penalized 15 yards for holding. A forward pass was attempted which was intercepted by Keck on Grove City's 18-yard line, Keck returning 6 yards.

On two successive plays, Keck made first down, gaining through the line. Grove City was held however, and after McGrath had batted down an attempted forward, Faulls went back and punted to Sillman on the 25-yard line, Sillman returning 7 yards.

Richards and Harper made a first down, after which Sillman broke loose around right end and ran 25 yards on a double pass formation. Grove City was offside but New Castle refused the penalty. On the next play, New Castle was penalized 5 yards for offside, but Klaber made it up by a 15-yard dash and a first down. Richards carried the ball to the 12 yard line as the quarter ended.

Second Quarter

The teams changed goals, and New Castle resumed its march on Grove City's goal, Harper and Sillman making a first down. Waltenbaugh was hurt on the play and C. Bohlender took his place at right end. On the next play, Sillman plunged over from the six yard line and followed by kicking the goal. Score 7-0.

Capt. Robinson kicked off to Negri on the 5-yard line, Negri returning to the 30-yard line before being downed. Christman was hurt but stayed in the game. Grove City opened with a spread formation, Keck getting away for a 15 yard dash. On the same formation, Keck made a two-yard gain, but Grove City's march was short-lived. Cameron fumbling and Robinson recovering for New Castle, in midfield. Dickson was substituted for Harper Richards and Sillman made a first down. Sillman made six yards on a double pass and Richards followed by a 35-yard dash from a triple pass formation, putting the ball on the 3 yard line. On the next play, Richards punched over for a touchdown. Sillman failed on the try-for-point, but Grove City was offside and the point was awarded to New Castle. Score 14-0.

Robinson kicked off to Negri on the 3-yard line and he returned to the 25. Keck hit the line for a two-yard gain, after which Faulls punted to Sillman who fumbled on the 30-yard line but recovered and came back to mid-field. Cameron was badly hurt on the play and his place was taken by Forker. New Castle made two successive first downs on short dashes. A forward pass, Sillman to Klaber was good for another when Keck was declared to have interferred with the receiver. Dickson fumbled and Grove City recovered as the half ended.

Third Quarter

Both teams lined up as they had at the end of the half when play was resumed. Keck kicked off to Thomas on the 28-yard line and he came back to the 38. Dickson

Chicago Gridders To Depend On Air Attack

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—University of Chicago is at last to have a football team featuring the aerial game.

Alonzo A. Stagg, for more than 30 years mentor of the Maroons, has finally opened his ears to the frantic howls of Chicago fans and this fall the screaming natives will watch the gallant Staggmen employ the aerial attack.

The "Grand Old Man" of American football has discovered he has several passers of agility and ability in his big 1926 squad and the opening weeks of the season have been marked by Stagg's concentration on the overhead game.

For the past several seasons Chicago's followers have looked askance at Stagg's favorite style of play-plunging backs—and have demanded the sensational and daring air game used by somewhat more successful members of the Big Ten conference.

Without any brilliant prospects in the way of rip-snorting fullbacks and with Captain Wally Marks, halfback, and other backfield material showing an inclination for the passing game, Stagg is believed certain to depend largely on the air attack this fall.

With the air game as developed by Stagg, regarded as one of the real master minds in coaching, Chicago's early season outlook is encouraging and the Maroons certainly will have been whipped into a dangerous machine by mid-season.

As usual the Maroons are starting the grind with a quarterback problem and Stagg has been forced to switch Johnny McDonough from end position to quarter. McDonough is showing well in passing and punting and in addition is believed heady enough to hold down the pilot job as field general.

Lekers, a sophomore without much experience, is Stagg's most likely candidate for the fullback berth.

Leyers has possibilities, the critics say, and he should shine after Stagg, long noted as a producer of great ground-gaining fullback, has whispered sweet something into his ears a few fall afternoons.

Captain Marks has passed a busy summer improving his efforts at kicking and unless Stanley Rouse convinces Stagg he is better than in the past it looks as though Marks will draw the toe assignment. Rouse's game last year was plenty good enough and either Marks or Rouse will furnish the Maroons with a kicking ace.

Reports that Stagg intends to depend on the aerial brand of football has sent a thrill into Chicago's football-mad citizenry and the Maroons will more than likely have a bigger following this season than ever before, despite the fact that Stagg's prospects for a championship team are far from roseate.

Members Of World's Series Team Leave New York For Winter

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The Yankees, most of them, will make a quiet getaway today.

Only Hoyt, Dugan and Gehrig will remain in New York for the winter. All the rest will scatter to their homes. California will draw the largest contingent with Lazzeri, Koenig, McQuaid, Meusel and Reuther.

Pennsylvania claims Pennock, Gazella and Thomas.

Shocker and Severeid will go to St. Louis, arriving in time to witness the celebration that city gives to its new champions.

Bob Shawkey will head a hunting party in the Canadian wilds for a month of shooting before going home. Sam Jones and Mark Koenig will be members of the party along with Eddie Collins, Joe Bush and other players.

Manager Huggins plans to stay around New York until the end of the month before going to St. Petersburg, Fla., where he makes his winter home.

Geneva Cross Country Team Takes Race

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Oct. 11.—Geneva defeated Westminster Saturday afternoon in cross-country. The score was 19 to 36. Sid Lockley and Capt. The other runners finished as follows: Irons, Geneva; D. Piper, Geneva; Myers Westminster; Dok, Geneva; Brown, Westminster; Markley, Geneva; King, Westminster; Ellis, Westminster and J. Piper Geneva. The defeat comes to Westminster after two years as Trti-state Conference champion.

Long Runs And Kicks

By Feg Murray

The other day I discussed the longest forward pass on record. Here are four other football marks that are down in the book as the longest of their kind; two kicks and two runs.

C. S. McCaa of Lafayette shares with Bennie Boynton of Williams the honor of making the longest run in football history. McCaa took the ball from scrimmage and dashed the length of the field against Swarthmore on October 15, 1909, about a year before the distance was shortened to an even one hundred yards. Boynton's run was made after catching a punt ten yards behind his own goal line.

There are in all 26 other "famous runs" of one hundred yards or more made from 1873 to 1926, one of the most sensational of which was that of the Indian, Dillon, against Harvard, with the ball hidden under the back of his jersey. It is generally understood that that bit of trickery won the game for Carlisle, but "Pop" Warner told me once that that was not the case. Another sensational dash, this time to a winning touchdown, was made by the great Arthur Poe of Princeton against Yale in 1898. It is classed as a run from a fumble, but Poe really wrenched the ball from the arms of an opponent.

The field goal record, 1873 to 1926, credits J. T. Haxall of Princeton with the longest of all place-kicks, one of 65 yards, against Yale on November 30, 1882. Mark Payne of Dakota Wesleyan kicked the record drop-kick when he booted one between the goal posts from 63 yards away on October 16, 1916. Strangely enough, the record field goal for high school players was made on the very same afternoon by Orson Wilcox of Mansfield, Pa., Normal school against Wyoming Seminary. His kick was 55 yards to the goal posts.

Pat O'Dea of Wisconsin and George Gipp of Notre Dame each kicked 62-yard drop-kicks in intercollegiate games, while O'Dea, in May, 1898, made an exhibition drop-kick of 63 yards 11 inches. One Chadwick is supposed to have made a place kick of 66 yards, two feet, eight inches at Exeter, N. H., on November 29, 1887, but the record is not generally accepted.

Bessemer High Outplayed At Midland, Pa., Saturday Afternoon, 52 To 0

(Special)

MIDLAND, Pa., Oct. 11.—Bessemer High proved little opposition to Midland High's fast combination here Saturday afternoon, with the locals romping away with a score of 52 to 0.

Bessemer High was outplayed and outfought from the start of the game and never threatened the Midland goal line. The visitors lacked the polish and class that went to make up the Midland team.

An 85 yard run for touchdown from kickoff by Lucaevic the Midland fullback was one of the many outstanding features of the listless battle. Daugherty and Sadler featured for Midland on the line.

For Bessemer the playing of Grist, Young and Sorg was a bright feature.

ZELIENOPLE, Pa., Oct. 11.—Zelienople High downed the Ben Franklin High gridders here Saturday afternoon by a score of 62 to 6. The game was devoid of any spectacular thrills outside the fact that the locals steam-rolled the New Castleites for four quarters of the game.

E. Nesbitt and R. Nesbitt with two touchdowns apiece, and Geise, Eicholtz, Horton, and Goodhart were the stars of the game for Zelienople.

Mitchell scored the lone touchdown for Ben Franklin High.

Ben Nessle Race Winner

First Across Line In Modified Marathon Race On Saturday

The modified marathon race that was held Saturday, Oct. 9, for high school students only was won by Ben Nessle, a Sophomore. The race was held in connection with the New Castle-Grove City football game and the runners finished in front of the stadium after making a circuit of the track.

Weingartner's property, on the Butler road, was the starting point and the contestants were started on their grind about two o'clock and finished just 13 minutes later at Franklin field. The finish was very close and the winner was in doubt until the final stretch of the track was taken by Ben Nessle, Robert Rose and Bruce Troutman. Rose, a colored chap, led the field throughout the race and was beaten out at the finish by a few feet by Nessle, who made a wonderful spurt. Troutman also finished well up front and he pushed Rose when within a few yards of the finish, but he did not have quite enough strength to pass him. Franklyn Schlicher came in about 20 yards behind Troutman and this gave him fourth place. Schlicher was followed closely by Louis Shiftman, who was fifth and won last ranking place, as five places were all that were picked. It might be mentioned however, that Francis Brice, a 12-year-old sophomore, captured sixth position after a good race.

The course of the race was about 2 1-2 miles in length and it must be admitted that 13 minutes was not bad time for a sophomore in high school. As a matter of fact, all the first five to finish were sophomores.

The contestants dressed at the Ben Franklin dressing rooms, where the best of facilities were to be had, and then they were transported to the starting place in machines. Bill Klee, physical director at the High school, had charge of the race, and with the assistance of several students the event was run off in a very efficient manner.

Westminster Plays Bethany Team To Tie In Wellsburg Contest

WELLSBURG, W. Va. Oct. 11—Westminster college and Bethany college football teams battled to a 7-7 tie in the home coming game for Bethany here on Saturday. The game was stubbornly fought by both teams and the aggressive, snappy offensive displayed by the Westminster team was a surprise to local followers of the game.

Neither team was able to score after the first half. Bethany's score was the direct result of a fumble one of the breaks of the game, while the Westminster marker came as the result of a 60 yard dash by one of the speedy Westminster ends, the most spectacular run of the game.

Westminster presented the best balanced team and one having the greatest variety of plays and the best attack of any team that has represented the New Wilmington school here for many years.

Immediately after receiving the opening kickoff, the Bethany backs, behind a line which held its own, launched a drive toward the Westminster line which made victory look almost certain for Bethany. However, the Westminster eleven tightened up and forced Bethany to punt. When in midfield, McQuiston fumbled Neel's pass and Burwell recovered for Bethany on the latter's 20-yard line. The Bethany eleven then picked up where it had left off and in four plays put the pigskin on the Westminster two-yard line, just as the quarter ended.

On the first play of the second quarter, Fiers carried over the Bison marker and Fiers kicked the extra point.

Fiers kicked off to Hostetler, who ran the ball back 10 yards to the Westminster 30-yard line. On the next play Hall passed to Crowell, who raced 60 yards for the Presbyterians' touchdown.

This ended the scoring, although the Bethany team made a march of 40 yards to within two yards of the Westminster goal as the whistle blew. Outside of the exceptional offense shown by both teams in the second quarter, the contest see-sawed back and forth, both teams lacking the punch to continue marches goalward after gaining possibly 20 or 30 yards. The defensive game put up by Captain Carey of Bethany probably was the best played by any man on the field, he being ably assisted in this department by Stobbs, Shives and Burwell. This quartet proved a nemesis to Westminster throughout the contest. McQuiston, Bowen, Hall and Ayers put up the best game for the Presbyterians. The lineup:

Bethany 7		Westminster 7
Hamil	L E	Bowen
Tinson	L T	Domborski
Burwell	L G	Ayers
Price	C	Smith
Griffith	R G	Montgomery
Bates	R T	Sweet
Shives	R E	Crowell
Carey	Q	Hall
Neel	L H	Lauder
Stobbs	R H	McQuiston
Fiers	F	Hostetler

Touchdowns — Bethany, Fiers; Westminster, Crowell.

Goals from touchdown—Fiers, Bowen.

Subs — Bethany, Fyckley for Bates, Gilman for Griffith, Bell for Price, Hogberg for Shives, Roe for Carey, Baker for Roe.

Referee—Baird, Penn State.

Umpire—Quiley, Pitt.

Head linesman—Cavanaugh, Pitt.

Hartman Is Sold To Pittsburgh By Johnstown Team

Former New Castle High Boy To Go To Training Camp With Pirates

According to a report from Secretary Irving Millenson of the Middle Atlantic League, Joseph Hartman, star pitcher on the Johnstown team during the past season, has been sold to the Pittsburgh Pirates and will report for spring training next season.

Hartman is a former New Castle High product and late Grove City College grid and basketball star, and at present coach of the Grove City High football team.

Hartman, as a member of the Johnstown club of the Mid Atlantic League in the season just concluded was one of the outstanding pitchers in the circuit and brought something like 15 victories to the pennant winners of the first half of the season.

Hammock, another Johnstown hurler, has also been sold to the Pirates, according to Millenson.

The New York Yankees were after Hartman and made a fine offer to the Johnstown team for the former local boy, but the Pirates had first call for his services.

Mid-West Football Pays Big Profits

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Oct. 11. — Mid-western football is a million dollar business.

Figures made public here by athletic authorities disclose that last year the gridiron game was conducted in the Big Ten college conference at a profit of $1,283,584.

This year an even greater profit is expected, owing to increasing interest in the game and the promise of a stiff fight for the conference championship.

A total of $436,898 was spent by the conference colleges to train their squads and produced the finished elevens. This sum included the cost of equipping the players. In the conference a total of 2,418 football players were drilled and turned out, participating in 54 games.

The salaries of coaches, including the assistants, averaged slightly more than $2,500.

Interesting figures, contrary to the claim that many football stars are men of brains as well as brawn, were also revealed by the colleges in the Big Ten conference, which is composed of Minnesota, Michigan, Iowa, Indiana, Purdue, Ohio, Wisconsin, Illinois, Chicago, and Northwestern universities. In the ten colleges out of a total of 2,390 scholarships, carrying free tuition, only 85 were held by athletes of the pigskin.

While the latter figures indicated football heroes have not been class leaders in the mid-west, athletic authorities found solace in the fact that the small percentage of athletes holding scholarships proved conclusively these scholarships were not being unfairly passed out to members of athletic teams, merely to keep them in college.

Charges that scholarships at many Big Ten schools were handed out to athletic stars regardless of their scholastic ability were groundless, the heads of athletic activities declared, pointing out the small percentage of stars on the gridiron holding the right to free tuition.

Illinois And Iowa Clash October 16

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Sportsdom's age-old but always thrilling situation of pupil against master will mark the situation at Urbana, Ill., October 16 when the football teams of Illinois and Iowa universities face each other.

Robert C. Zuppke, the famed Illini coach who gave "Red" Grange and Burt A. Ingwersen, former Illinois star and now coach of the Iowa team, will be leading lights in gridiron drama.

Ingwersen, one of the most popular athletes ever wearing the Orange and Blue, played at Illinois at tackle position and was rated one of the best linesmen ever turned out by Zuppke . He was acting captain of the Illini in 1918.

The former Zuppke star comes to his alma mater field this year with prospects none too bright. He has a team made up largely of unproved material and the Illini are favored to win. Zuppke's squad, however, is suffering from the usual injury list.

Timm, halfback, who was to have been drilled to fill Grange's shoes, is suffering from an elbow fracture and probably will play little this season.

D'Ambrosio, end, has been ill and Reitsch, center, is also nursing injuries but both are expected to be in shape for the Iowa game.

Illinois' game with Iowa is the annual "homecoming" game and the first of the Big Ten conference games for the Zuppkemen.

The contest will be the sub-climax for the Pennsylvania-Illini game at Urbana October 30—the "big" game of the year.

ALEXANDER PROVES HERO OF 1926 WORLD'S SERIES

Veteran Pitches Brilliant Ball

Babe Ruth Only Player In Series Outside Of Alexander To Star

ALEX WINS TWO GAMES, SAVES ONE

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'l News Service

NEW YORK, Oct. 11. — One of the principal differences between Richard the Third and Rogers Hornsby of which there probably were many, was that Richard shouted his royal head off for a horse and Rogers had one. His name was and is Grover Cleveland Alexander and, somehow, in considering Alex, the writer finds it difficult to refrain from thinking of Exterminator, affectionately known as "Old Bones." The affection was held by those to whom this sensation is an almost obsolete virtue.

Alexander Hero

Exterminator gave of his honest best at all times and finally went out to clover as an honored and hallowed name. They can do no less by Alexander after what happened in the 1926 world's series, concluded yesterday with Alex pitching the Cards into another final victory.

The writer regards Alexander's series performance of two games won and another saved as the greatest individual effort a man of his years has given to baseball during modern times. Anyhow, it will do until a better one turns up.

Matty was not many years out of shutouts in the 1905 series. He was a young man with the best of his career before him. Babe Adams was out of the big time for his first complete season when his big moment of the 1909 games matured and fell due. Coveleskie was in the full flush of his ability when he pitched the Indians into the title in 1920. But when the Cardinals called on Alexander to save the seventh game and the championship yesterday they asked for a man who never again will see his thirty ninth year and one who wasted no worry upon the preservation of his physical heritage.

Recall Young—Plank

There are only two pitchers I can recall, offhand, who might have done what Alexander did at his age and both of them were careful and abstemious to a fault. They were Eddie Plank and Cyrus Denton Young. As a matter of fact, old Cy is the only one who rates this possibility, for Plank, with all his self-denial, was in several world series and never won three games in one of them.

The writer is fully aware that Alexander did not receive official credit for winning yesterday's game. But no one, not even Jess Haines whom he relieved with the bases filled in the seventh will deny that moral credit for the game is his due. For Alex not only fanned Lazzeri, leaving three to perish miserably but finished the game without allowing a Yank to hit the ball out of the infield. And this happened just twenty four hours after he had pitched the Cards into a tie in the series beating the Yanks in the sixth game.

What other major leaguer at thirty nine could figure to do that? The silence seems to be deafening. What of those very perishable lads of twenty four or so who must have their five days of repose between games? The middle aged Alexander, run out of Chicago as a ne'er-do-well in mid season, asked for nothing like that. He merely asked for the ball and went willingly to work.

The records will not give him credit for this one but they can't take the sixth game away from him nor can they rob him of that great effort in the second meeting when he confined the Yanks to four hits and prevented them from hitting a ball out of the infield for six straight innings.

You can look back over your series heroes since 1903 and, with one exception, you will find all of them were young men, trained to the minute and enjoying a good season in 1924, but Walter was neither as old as Alex nor was his performance as worthy.

For one thing, he lost his first two starts in that series. For another, he had more than a single night's rest before he relieved Mogridge in the ninth to save the final game of the series.

Ruth Was Great

As far as I am concerned, Alexander is the all-time, the permanent hero. Therefore, there is nothing else for it but to acclaim him as such for the single series of 1926. Ruth was great. Without him, the Yankees probably wouldn't have gone beyond the fifth game. Any man who can hit four homers, three of them in one game make two dazzling gloved hand catches and one throw that cut a runner down at the plate is entitled to about everything that can be said about him.

But he must yield to Alexander. So must Thevenow, a hitting and fielding fool for this particular series. As for the rest—Pennock, O'Farrell, Southworth, Bottomley, Sherdel and Haines—they were good and therein lies the difference. Alexander and Ruth were great, no less.

DE MARCO AND BERNSTEIN TO BOX TONIGHT

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 11.—Cuddy De Marco gets another chance to show Smoky City fans what he can do in the way of hit and biff when he tackles Jack Bernstein, former junior lightweight champion, at Motor Square Garden. The fight is scheduled to go 10 rounds.

De Marco holds one decision over Bernstein, having walloped the New Yorker at New Haven, Conn., in a 10-round go. Both are down to 135 pounds and with Cuddy anxious to place himself again in the fancy of hometown fans fistic pyrotechnics of a sensational degree are anticipated.

Mark Koenig "Goat" Of World's Series

Costly Error By Yankee Recruit Sunday Cost Huggins' Crew Game

Cardinals Defeated Yankees At Own Game—Slugging

By FORD C. FRICK
International News Service Special Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—A baseball, stitched with gold and set with diamonds, came hopping down to Mark Koenig yesterday afternoon.

Perhaps the gleam of the misty afternoon sun, glinting across the golden cover, blinded Mark's eyes. Perhaps it was only the nervousness that comes of seeing so much wealth get up on its two feet and stalk across a baseball diamond.

At any rate Mark booted what looked like an easy chance.

And as a result the St. Louis Cardinals are champions of the baseball universe.

Koenig Is "Goat"

A lot will be written about that error, no doubt—and perhaps Mark will be elected to that select society of baseball "goats" whose names have been inscribed in mud paneling in many another world series. Somehow the term "$50,000 Bobbie" has an appealing sort of sound to those who dally with pretty phrasing.

But to this writer the thing that stalked across that wind-swept, rain-sodden diamond yesterday in the gray garb of an error was not so much a boot as it was baseball destiny. And very naturally it was Mark who had to be tagged—just as that wicked old lady fate has tagged him time and again since this hectic baseball season began.

Koenig can make good plays by the score and they all go into the record of the day's work without any particular praises or any raftering laudation. But once he boots one—and it seems as though the whole world tumbles about his ears.

The Cardinals won the series because they beat the Yankees at their own game—which is slugging the ball. They won because they were superior in pitching strength. They won because they had the true spirit, fighting for every break and taking advantage of every Yankee lapse.

Seventy Men In Football Squad At Grove City

GROVE CITY, Pa., Oct. 11. — There are now seventy men out for football at Grove City College. Twenty-six of these men are on the varsity squad and forty-four of them are on the Reserve squad. The Reserve team will have a schedule of four games to play, opening with the Polish College at Grove City on October 23. Then follow games with California Normal at California on October 29, Slippery Rock Normal at Grove City on November 13, and Cathedral Prep of Erie at Grove City on November 20. The squad of reserve players is in charge of by Athletic Director Thorn and Director McEuen.

The varsity players returned from Buffalo yesterday after their game with Canisius College on Saturday. The next game will be with Marshall College at Huntington, W. Va., next Saturday. Little is known of the strength of the Marshall team. It is coached by two former West Virginia University players who are no doubt using the Spear's system of play. Grove City regards the game with a serious attitude because of the fact that West Virginia was unusually successful against the crimson last fall.

Alexander Wins For St. Louis

Thevenow's Single In Fourth Paves Way For St. Louis Victory

TWO ERRORS COSTLY TO NEW YORK YANKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Grover Cleveland Alexander proved the hero of the world series by again stepping forth yesterday and after relieving Haines with the bases full, fanned Tony Lazzeri and enabled the Cardinals to retain a 3-2 lead over the Yankees, the victory giving the Cardinals the world's series title.

In the third inning Babe Ruth landed on Jess Haines for a circuit clout which gave the Yankees a lead but in the fourth errors by Koenig and Meusel paved the way for the Redbirds who made a three run rally.

Thevenow leaped into fame when he singled with three on and by brilliant plays in the infield. Hoyt and Pennock were the victims of the Cards while Manager Hornsby yanked Haines in the critical seventh when dark clouds gathered for the Cards, but Alexander pulled the St. Louis team out of the hole. Tagging Bases

Sports Editor Internat'l News Service

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—After handling nearly every previous chance poorly, Lester Bell waited until the ninth inning of the seventh game to come up cleanly with a pair. That boy knows how to pick his spots.

The ticket speculators, it seems, were thrown for a loss behind their own goal line. It's getting more difficult every day to turn an honest dollar.

Baseball's big moments are all too few. When the determined Ruth strode to the plate with two out in the ninth to face the serenely confident Alexander, every heart in the place was lifted right out of its socket and thrown away.

Most of those who call themselves "young intellectuals" are half right, anyway.

Robinson kicked off to Deight on the 35 yard line and he came back to the 40. Keck made two short gains through the line, but Faulls was hurled for a 6-yard loss on an attempt to skirt the end from a double-pass formation. Faulls punted to Sillman on the 25-yard line and Sillman came back 10 yards. Smith fumbled but recovered. He made two yards on a triple pass on the next play and time was taken out when Peg Thomas was hurt. Sandifer replaced him. Robinson kicked out of bounds in mid-field, but both sides were declared offside and the ball was brought back. "Robbie" then kicked to Faulls on the 30-yard line, when he was downed in his tracks by McGrath.

Keck made a gain of 7 yards on Grove City's spread formation, but a second attempt at the same play resulted in a fumble and a two-yard loss. Faulls punted to Sillman on his own 35-yard line and he came back 10 yards.

New Castle started another march on the Grove City goal, but Smith fumbled on the goal line and Grove City recovered.

Faulls kicked out from behind his own goal line to Sillman on the 35, Sillman returning 15 yards. Harper and Richards made it first down on four plays and Klaber dashed for a touchdown. Sillman kicked goal. Score 28-0.

Kirk replaced Millison.

New Castle Awarded Point

Robinson kicked off to Negri on the 5-yard line, and Negri fumbled, the ball rolling behind the goal line, where he recovered and brought it out to the 5-yard line. Faulls punted to Sillman in mid-field and he came back 18 yards to the 32, where he was run out of bounds. Richards and Harper made a first down. Klaber made a five-yard gain putting the ball on the five-yard line, from whence Sillman ran wide around left end for a touchdown. Sillman again failed in the attempt for the extra point, but New Castle was awarded the point when Grove City was offside.

Kirk replaced Millison.

Both coaches began hurling in substitutes at this point. Smith and Dickson returning to the backfield, while D. Thomas was sent in for Klaber. Sherer, Haydon, Jones, Burns, and McIntosh, also going in, while Coach Hartman of Grove City put in an entirely new backfield and several new men on the line.

Robinson kicked off to O'Conner who had replaced Negri, and O'Conner came back from the 5 to the 15 before being downed. D. Thomas fumbled and Grove City recovered. They were unable to gain however, and O'Conner punted to Sillman in mid-field, Sillman being nailed in his tracks by Waltenbaugh who had returned to the game. Evans Stars In Buffalo Game

Grove City Wins From Canisius On Saturday Afternoon, 10-0

SCORING IS DONE IN SECOND HALF

By JOE GRAHAM
(Staff Correspondent.)

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Grove City college by virture of a smashing line attack and an ability to toss the pigskin thither and yon scored a 10-0 victory over Canisius college here Saturday afternoon. The Crimson tallies came in the third and fourth periods after a listless half in which neither team showed any offensive power.

The first Mercer county score came when Pflugg booted the ball between the posts from placement from the 25-yard mark after Grove City had a forward march of 40 yards checked. The touchdown tally was a spectacular forward heave followed by three smart smacks at the line which netted the necessary remaining two yards.

After the two scores Canisius went to pieces and Hayden Evans former Ne-Ca-Hi star, plowed the line for 38 yards and the only thing which stayed another touchdown was the referee's whistle. The ball was on the "umpty inch" line when the game ended and another plunge would have taken it over.

Grove City stuck to straight football during the first half and had ill luck in picking weak spots in the line. Their opponents played an odd, unorthodox formation of the spreading variety which gained occasionally but which had no real consistent virtue as a ground materializer. As soon as the nearby school turned to the passing game the victory was won.

The Grovers scored a tally in the third quarter which was disallowed on a rather shady interpretation of the rules and which for a moment looked as if it would cause Coach Bowser to take his team from the field. The officiating was of a rather weird sort and was plainly that of amateurs. Their intentions were good but they were unable to disapprove the fact that they were "home town boys" when the decisions were close.

Grove City starred Evans, Pflugg and Weidman while Canisius had their best man in Guthrie at left end. The score and lineup:

Canisius 0		Grove City 10
Guthrie	L.E.	Wiedman
Burke	L.T.	Sweet
Feist	L.G.	Gibson

That Well-Groomed Efficient Look—

It is not so much a matter of buying lots of new clothes, as of taking good care of the clothes you have.

Regular cleaning and pressing is the secret.

Ask any well-groomed, prosperous-looking business or professional man you know, and a hundred chances to one he'll give you the same answer.

Let us call now for your fall suit and overcoat and put them in splendid readiness for fall and approaching cooler weather.

We clean, press, repair or dye—in fact have a thoroughly modern service.

Our methods are thorough, scientific and dependable. Our work more than pays for itself in the greater satisfaction and longer use you get from your garments.

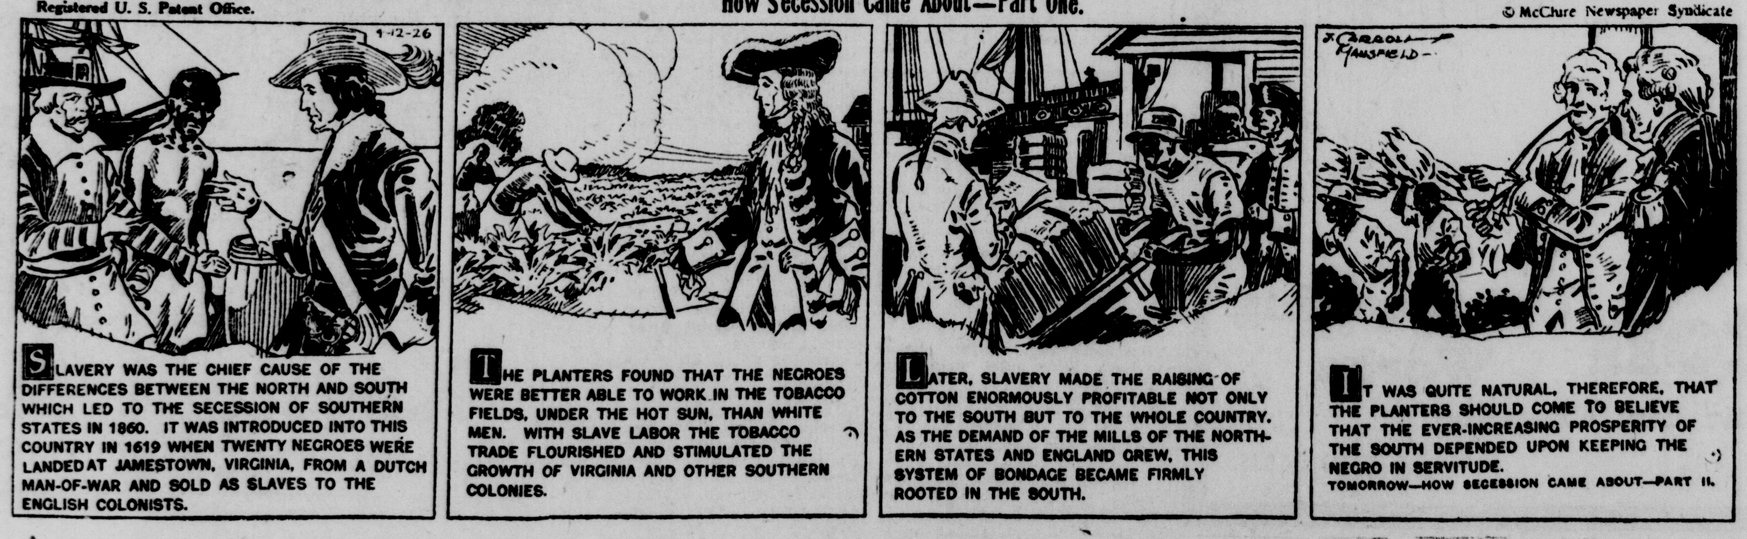
How Secession Came About—Part One.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate



SLAVERY WAS THE CHIEF CAUSE OF THE DIFFERENCES BETWEEN THE NORTH AND SOUTH WHICH LED TO THE SECESSION OF SOUTHERN STATES IN 1860. IT WAS INTRODUCED INTO THIS COUNTRY IN 1619 WHEN TWENTY NEGROES WERE LANDED AT JAMESTOWN, VIRGINIA, FROM A DUTCH MAN-OF-WAR AND SOLD AS SLAVES TO THE ENGLISH COLONISTS.

THE PLANTERS FOUND THAT THE NEGROES WERE BETTER ABLE TO WORK IN THE TOBACCO FIELDS, UNDER THE HOT SUN, THAN WHITE MEN. WITH SLAVE LABOR THE TOBACCO TRADE FLOURISHED AND STIMULATED THE GROWTH OF VIRGINIA AND OTHER SOUTHERN COLONIES.

LATER, SLAVERY MADE THE RAISING OF COTTON ENORMOUSLY PROFITABLE NOT ONLY TO THE SOUTH BUT TO THE WHOLE COUNTRY. AS THE DEMAND OF THE MILLS OF THE NORTHERN STATES AND ENGLAND GREW, THIS SYSTEM OF BONDAGE BECAME FIRMLY ROOTED IN THE SOUTH.

IT WAS QUITE NATURAL, THEREFORE, THAT THE PLANTERS SHOULD COME TO BELIEVE THAT THE EVER-INCREASING PROSPERITY OF THE SOUTH DEPENDED UPON KEEPING THE NEGRO IN SERVITUDE.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—There was no mistaking the decisively downward trend of stock prices at the beginning of trading today. Professional traders—and others, offered stocks "all over the board" at price declines of 1 to 4 points from Saturday's closing range, and the downward movement which has been in progress for the past two weeks was resumed in full force.

A good part of the selling pressure was directly attributed to the fact that all markets are closed tomorrow and traders were more concerned with lightening their load of speculative holdings than adding to it. The professionals on the floor of the Stock Exchange and elsewhere took advantage of this situation and forced heavy offerings of the active speculative industrial and railroad shares in an effort to continue the reactionary movement.

Most of the industrial and business surveys of the day were favorable. Cotton made a good response to the week-end efforts of southern interests to prevent a serious dumping of futures on the market, and the early gains reached a maximum of $2 a bale. Good buying was reported in the southern districts. Call money renewal rates opened at 5 per cent, with plenty of speculative funds in sight.

Moderate recoveries were staged in the market leaders in the second hour. Some of these stocks, in fact, made their worst showing at the opening of the market, from which point a rally was promptly inaugurated. The market was dull and routine affair in this second period and price changes were unusually narrow.

ALLEGED GRAFT IN INDIANA IS ORDERED PROBED

(International News Service)

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 11.—The Marion county grand jury today received instructions to begin immediately a thorough probe of charges of wholesale graft and corruption in Indiana as aired by Thomas H. Adams, Vincennes publisher, and centering around D. C. Stephenson, deposed and imprisoned ex-grand dragon of the Indiana K. K. K.

In his instructions to the grand jury Judge James A. Collins of the Marion criminal court told the jurors that Stephenson would be brought here at the proper time to tell his whole story.

The grand jury inquiry will be directed by States Attorney Arthur L. Gilliom and County Prosecutor Will H. Remy, who began immediately to issue subpoenaes for witnesses. The first subpoena was for Adams, who, according to Remy, was to appear before the grand jury this afternoon and submit proof of all his allegations which have for two weeks rocked the whole state.

Prosecutor Remy announced the appointment of Ralph Kane of Indianapolis as an assistant prosecutor during the grand jury probe of the Adams charges. Kane helped Remy convict Stephenson of the murder of Miss Madge Oberholtzer.

St. Louis Fans Plan Welcome To Champions

Cardinal Team To Slip Into Town Tonight Unannounced

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 11.—As a precaution against any "Mobbing" by enthusiastic fans, the world's champion Cardinals will not be brought into union station here this afternoon when they arrive from New York, where they downed the Yankees in the seventh and deciding game of the series yesterday.

According to plans announced by the reception committee, the players' special will be met at a point unannounced, and taken from the train to their hotels and homes in automobiles. The train is due to arrive at 5:10 p. m.

The players will be guarded from the time they arrive until 8 o'clock tonight when a public reception will be held at Sportsman's Park to which all are invited to see the champions.

Each of the players will be introduced and called upon to tell the crowd "how they trimmed the Yankees."

The precautions were taken to prevent a recurrence of the incidents which marked the arrival of the team here last week from New York when they had to fight their way through masses of cheering fans to their waiting machines.

Cardinals "Let Loose" Stored Up Steam As Championship Is Won

Championship Team Spends Hilarious Hour In Locker Room Following Game

Judge Landis Pays Respects To Winning Team After Battle Is Won

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—When world's championships are won, the greater part of the contagious public gathers outside the clubhouse door of the winners and imagines what's going on inside. Usually they imagine after the Horatio Alger, Jr., school of thought and are all wrong.

Not so the Cardinal clubhouse after yesterday's triumph. A taste of what was to come was furnished as the game closed. Grover Cleveland Alexander, seeing Babe Ruth waved out at second base, sprinted for the Yankee dugout and the runway to the safety of the locker rooms.

Lester Bell and the entire Cardinal team started for him, but even the speedy Bell was barely able to catch the aged Alex. Into the club quarters they stormed, the young players—and but few of the Cardinals are not young, began leaping on each other's backs, kicking over benches, throwing their gloves to all parts of the room and hammering benches, et al, with bats.

They said little. They merely shouted and howled. Even Rogers Hornsby, with the sad weight of his mother's funeral awaiting him in Texas, joined in the celebration for a few minutes before stalking slowly to his locker and, apparently reminded of his sorrow, going slowly about his changing.

Usually the first thought of the ball player, once the game is over, is first place in the shower. The sweaty, sticky uniforms are fairly torn off. Not so the Cardinals of yesterday. It was fully 30 minutes before the last of the Red Birds were out of their uniforms and far longer than that before they left the club house.

Judge Landis visited them and spoke briefly, shaking hands with each player.

Some of the more exuberant almost kissed the judge. Hornsby and Ed Barrow came in to congratulate the winners. Miller Huggins sent his felicitations, promising to call in person later.

Grover Alexander probably was the biggest kid of the bunch. Stories that Grover went phlegmatically about his shower are misleading. The big veteran danced and yipped about the place with the kids and was one of the last to get under the streams of soothing water.

Plan Parade On Armistice Day

Procession Will Move In Evening Prior to Meeting

Armistic Day here will be celebrated in a manner befitting the day and under the direction of Attorney William J. Caldwell, general chairman of the arrangements for the day, a program for the celebration has been mapped out.

The parade, always a feature of the day's celebration will be held on the evening of November 11, with the memorial meeting following. Thus far the committee on speakers has not selected the man who will deliver the address but it is expected that a nationally known man will come here.

In addition to veterans of all wars, fraternal and patriotic organizations will be asked to participate in the parade. With the exception of ex-service men and bands, no uniforms will be worn.

The junior high schools of the city will be asked to participate in the parade and the probabilities are that there will be several thousand in line on November 11.

Poppy Day, an annual feature here, will be observed on Saturday, November 13.

Council Adopts Bond Ordinance

Will Use $110,000 For Street Improvements And Fire Station

Council today adopted an ordinance submitted September 6 by Louis Genkinger increasing the bonded indebtedness of the city $110,000, for the purpose of making street improvements, condemnation and payment for lands and the construction of public buildings. The ordinance provides for the levying of an annual tax for the payment of the obligation and the interest and state tax.

Council plans to open, widen and extend certain thoroughfares and to erect a fire department building in South Jefferson street.

Councilmen recently stated that two sites in South Jefferson street are under scrutiny.

It is not planned to make any of the improvements this fall, but expect to put through the program next spring.

The bonds, according to the ordinance, will be of $1,000 denomination, to be issued November 1, 1926, and bear 4 1-2 per cent interest, free of all federal, state, local and other taxation.

State Street Job Progressing Nicely

Paving of State street is progressing favorably, according to City Engineer Frank Miller.

The crossing at Sampson street, formerly the rails of the Sharon & New Castle railway, has been improved.

The Greenwood avenue crossing has been concreted and the cement is settling.

State street has been paved between Greenwood avenue and Sankey street.

The contractor is now working from Grant street toward Sankey, according to Miller.

Man Arrested As Stomach Gives Up Missing Diamonds

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 11.—After physicians at the Allegheny hospital disgorged three diamond rings from his stomach, John Brook of Pittsburgh was detained by police on orders of Magistrate Sweeney of the North Side police court today.

Brock swallowed the rings and battled with a policeman when the officer sought to arrest him on suspicion, officials said.

Brock was knocked unconscious in the fight and was taken to the hospital, where a stomach pump was used, according to authorities.

One of the rings reported recovered from Brock's stomach was a signet ring studded with three diamonds.

COLORED WOMAN FINED

When the home of Mrs. Nannie Springs, colored, rear 1101 Moravia street, was visited Sunday morning about 8:30 o'clock by County Detective George S. Kennedy and assisting city officers, a party was in progress which appeared to have its inception, at least as far as the noise was concerned, in the use of an abundant supply of liquor. Mrs. Springs was arrested and charged with being the keeper of a disorderly house, while ten men and women, all negroes, were arrested as visitors. Mrs. Springs paid a fine of $10 and nine of the visitors $5 each. The tenth visitor was discharged.

Gives City Right To Operate Big Plant

Superintendent And Chemist Will Assume Duties At Sewage Disposal Plant

Officials of the Pitt Construction Company today gave city council authority to put Charles McKeever and Chemist McDonald to work at the sewage disposal plant, though the city has not yet formally accepted the plant.

The sewage will be turned into the plant soon. The superintendent will be instructed by Fuller & McClintock, engineers, as to his duties. Chemist McDonald will make chemical tests and determine, with A. A. Jones, resident engineer, if the Pitt Construction Company's job has been satisfactory.
